Newburgh Welfare Head Done Can't Enforce City Plan, Officer Says

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—John O'Donnell resigned as city welfare commissioner today in protest against a proposed tightening of welfare requirements.

O'Donnell said he faced an impossible position of being called upon to administer a 13-point program that he regarded as at variance with state welfare laws. The program is scheduled to become effective July 15.

O'Donnell submitted his resignation, effective immediately, to City Manager Joseph Mitchell, a strong proponent of the program.

Woman to Serve

Mrs. Doris Harding, deputy commissioner, will serve as acting commissioner pending appointment of a successor to O'Donnell.

The resignation came shortly after Sears Hunter, appointment of a Democratic chairman, announced opposition to the program.

Hunter voiced his stand in saying he supports Mayor William Ryan's opposition to the proposal, which the council says it is determined to begin on July 15.

Assailed as Illegal

State officials have assailed the plan as illegal in the main and said it might cause a cutoff of federal welfare funds for the entire state.

Hunter said the program appears designed to embarrass Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a Republican, and the state Social Welfare Board.

Hunter said that besides not approving of the 13 points, he doesn't want to see the program go into effect because it would result in adverse publicity for the city.

The Newburgh City Council meets tonight, and the program is one of the items on the agenda.

Tighter Control Over Narcotics Is Aim of State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state, in a move to tighten control over narcotics, has limited the amount of medicines containing narcotics, such as cough syrups, that may be sold to an individual during a 24-hour period.

Another regulation forbids furnishing narcotics on a doctor's telephone order, even though a signed prescription covering the order is received later.

A department spokesman said the regulations, announced Sunday by Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe, were primarily to clarify laws and regulations now in effect.

The previous rule on cough syrups and similar preparations limited the amount sold to an individual at one time at four ounces. The limit now is no more than four ounces in a 24-hour period.

To Prevent Abuse

The new limit, the spokesman said, is intended to make the preparations available for treatment of illness and, at the same time, prevent abuse.

The spokesman said many cough syrups were 50 per cent alcohol and had been bought by teenagers unable to purchase liquor.

The rule applying to telephone orders, the department said, contains a clause covering emergencies. Pharmacists may supply narcotics on the basis of a telephone order if a prescription is furnished before the narcotics are delivered.

Can't Find Law Covering Ruckus on Crowded Plane

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A vacationing Illinois janitor, who caused a ruckus with a pocket knife aboard a crowded jetliner, poses a headache for authorities because of a legal no-man's land.

And it appears the headache may require legislative relief from Congress.

Joseph Newkirk, 60, of Argo, Ill., was arrested Saturday after threatening two persons aboard United Air Lines Flight 853, carrying 118 passengers from Chicago to Los Angeles.

No one was injured. Newkirk, who at first told police he was a salesman, was booked on suspicion of assault.

Takes His Whiskey

Shortly after takeoff from Chicago's O'Hare Field, investigators said, Newkirk became enraged because a stewardess took away his whiskey bottle. Later as the plane whisked over Nevada at about 32,000 feet, he became belligerent, pushed a stewardess and brandished his knife with a young Marine interceded.

The Marine, Pvt. Donald James Schwalbach, of Highland Park, Ill., slugged and sidearmed Newkirk. The janitor was bound by the crew and held captive in the lounge until Los Angeles police boarded the plane here.

After booking Newkirk, police discovered they had no jurisdiction over a crime allegedly committed over Nevada. They called the FBI and the Federal Aviation Agency.

This Case Different

The FBI pondered the problem — and said they'd have to discuss it with headquarters in Washington.

The FAA said it could not prosecute Newkirk on a criminal charge, but could charge him in a civil action with violating FAA drinking regulations aboard an airliner.

Then Asst. U.S. Atty. Tom Sheridan said he knows of no federal statute covering passengers aboard a plane in interstate flight.

"We have all sorts of laws for trains and several new ones for planes," he added, "but I don't know of any for something like this."

9 Hurt in Traffic, Woman Hit by Train

Nine persons were hurt in vehicular accidents in Ulster County during the weekend and a 61-year-old Hudson woman was seriously injured when she was struck by a train near Columbiaville, Columbia County.

None of the persons hurt in traffic mishaps were hospitalized, it was reported.

Injured on Route 28

Five of the nine injured were hurt in a three-car chain collision on Route 28 at Stony Hollow, and four others in one-car mishaps.

Mrs. Samuel Becker of 302 Columbia Street, Hudson, was admitted to Columbia Memorial Hospital with a severe leg injury. Authorities said she might lose her leg.

Claverack state police said Mrs. Becker and her husband were crossing the New York Central Railroad tracks at Alford's Dock to return to their car after fishing in the Hudson River, when a westbound train rounded a curve at 70 mph and struck the woman. Her husband escaped uninjured.

Engineer Charles J. Burch of Highland and Freeman Robert Orr of Poughkeepsie told troopers that they saw the pair crossing the tracks but were unable to stop the train in time.

2 Die in Crash

Two children injured in a one-car collision at Milton last Friday afternoon which took the life of the wife of Charles Corte, United Press International photographer, were still in critical condition today at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie. Also killed was Mrs. Nellie Ward, 50, Mrs. Corte's aunt.

Corte was reported in "fair" condition today at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Highland state police reported at the time that the Corte car was proceeding south on Route 9W when the operator lost control on a left curve and went off the west side of the highway, striking a rock ledge. He was pinned in the vehicle for 15 minutes before he could be released.

Mrs. Corte, 42, was pronounced dead on arrival at Vassar Hospital.

Still Critical

The two Corte children, Patricia, 14, and Charles Jr., 4, were still in critical condition today.

Kingston state police investigated several traffic accidents during the weekend. A total of nine persons were injured, none serious enough for hospitalization, and three of the drivers were issued summonses for various motor vehicle violations.

New Building Is Wrecked By Gas Blast

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — A gas explosion blamed on arson wrecked a new 3½-story, insurance building in downtown Utica early today, shattered windows broke blocks away and injured a man.

Police evacuated residents in a five-block area for fear of further explosions from leaking gas.

Fire Chief James F. Mullen told reporters: "This was definitely arson."

Screws were reported to have been loosened on a gas meter in the basement of the six months old brick Victoria Building at Cornelia and Genesee Streets. Near the meter, piles of rubbish were affixed.

John Duggan, manager of the All-State Insurance Co., estimated damage at "many thousands of dollars." Numerous files of the company were destroyed. No one was in the building at the time.

Fred Bednarczyk, 24, suffered burns on the upper part of his body when flames blew across the street in the spot where he was standing. His jacket caught fire, police said.

Part of the roof of the building was torn off, window frames were hurled across the street, smashing windows in another building. Flames swept the Victoria basement and destroyed automobiles garaged there, police said.

The All-State company's ground-floor offices were destroyed, police said.

Governor Names State Board to Check Hospitals

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today named a 13-man board, headed by Dr. Norman S. Moore of Cornell University, to advise the State Health Department on hospitals and health insurance plans.

The council includes hospital administrators, public health and nursing officials, and representatives of labor, management and insurance.

Rockefeller, in making the unsalaried appointments, said he had asked the board—the State (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

Today's 53 Low Is Record for Any July 10th

A record all-time low temperature of 53 degrees for July 10 was recorded at 5:15 a. m. today at the city engineer's office.

The previous low of 54 degrees was recorded on the same day in 1953 and 1954, according to records at City Hall.

The record high of 103 was recorded here in 1936.

Jersey Youth Drowns in Esopus Creek

A 17-year-old Bayonne, N. J., youth drowned in 20 feet of water in Esopus creek off the Spillway road, town of Marbletown, early Sunday afternoon.

The body of James McInenly was recovered about 3:50 p. m. by Deputy Sheriff Ernest Longyear and Deputy Fire Chief Robert Arsit who were engaged in grappling operations.

The Ulster County sheriff's office reported that McInenly, his sister, Mrs. Linda Koloski, and his brother-in-law, Michael Koloski, all of Bayonne, went for a swim in the creek about 2:30 p. m.

Slips From Grasp

McInenly was about 15 feet from the shore when he called for help and went under, according to the sheriff's office.

Koloski dove in and attempted to assist McInenly who kept grabbing him and pulling him under.

Twice Koloski took hold of him but McInenly, struggling desperately, slipped from his grasp.

Coroner Francis J. McCordle of Kingston said the family indicated that McInenly had not been in swimming for about two years.

Koloski went to help him, McCordle said, but "it was all over very quickly."

The drowning occurred opposite Camp Wagner.

Visiting Wagner Home

The youth and the Koloskis were visiting at the home of Henry Wagner on the Atwood road, town of Marbletown at the time.

Coroner McCordle issued a verdict of accidental death due to asphyxia caused by drowning.

The body of the young man was returned to Bayonne for burial.

Members of the Olive Bridge Fire Company under Chief Albert Fox were at the scene, along with Sheriff Claude Bell, Undersheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg, Deputy Sheriffs Longyear, Jack Seaholm, Frank Neri and George Reitmair, and Investigator Charles Teelon, BCI, of the Kingston state police.

Coroner McCordle said young McInenly was a student in junior high school.

Treated for Shock

A doctor was also called to the scene to attend Mrs. Koloski who was in a state of severe shock.

First to reach the scene were Deputies Reitmair and Longyear, it was reported.

Also assisting were Larry Baldwin, Howard Trowbridge, John Adsit and Edward Swenson of the Olive Bridge Fire Company. A resuscitator was used in an attempt to revive the victim.

Majority Approves

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Unofficial returns today showed the majority of Turkish voters approved the new constitution in the first such referendum in Turkey's history.

Counting continued on in several provinces, but it was estimated that at least 60 per cent of those voting cast white ballots Sunday approving the constitution, second in the Turkish Republic's 38 years.

President Has Big Schedule at Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy returned today from a second straight weekend of rest and relaxation at his Hyannis Port, Mass., summer home. A busy White House schedule awaited him.

The President was accompanied by his wife Jacqueline.

Mrs. Kennedy returned to Washington for a state dinner in Mt. Vernon Tuesday for the visiting president of Pakistan.

She arranged the dinner after last month's presidential trip to Paris and Vienna, where historic sites often are the setting for formal state occasions.

Children Are Away

The Kennedy children, 3-year-old Caroline, and John Jr., almost 7 months old, are spending the entire summer in Hyannis Port.

The President's first White House appointment was with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other State Department officials.

Crowds at Church

President and Mrs. Kennedy attracted two big crowds to St. Francis Xavier Church in Hyannis Sunday. One crowd showed up for the Mass they were expected to attend, the other for the service they actually attended, an hour later.

The Kennedys spent the rest of the day taking it easy at their Hyannis Port home overlooking Nantucket Sound.

Saturday was the President's Hyannis Port work day. He spent nearly five hours discussing the problems of Germany and Berlin, and the situation in Southeast Asia, with three top advisors: Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the President's military representative, flew up from Washington for the talks.

The Cape Cod White House said the conference was wide ranging but was not of an emergency nature.

Show of Soviet Air Might Sunday Is Seen as Bolster for Demand on Berlin

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union showed off its air might Sunday in a dazzling display that struck Western diplomats as a gesture designed to strengthen Kremlin demands on Berlin.

Premier Khrushchev and Cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin watched side by side along with a crowd of 50,000 while the Soviet air force paraded a spectacular array of new craft at Moscow's Tushino Airfield.

Western experts watching the show — first the Soviets have staged since 1958—said the United States has nothing to match several of the entries, including a jet fighter that can light up a liquid rocket engine booster in flight to gain a tremendous rate of climb.

The most spectacular attraction shown publicly for the first time was a delta wing bomber the announcer said had a speed several times that of sound. The plane looked bigger than the eight-engine U.S. B52 and had four jets, two on the wing tips and two in-below the wings.

Western air attaches showed keen interest in a flypast of 10 heavy supersonic bombers which also made their first public appearance. This new model's two engines were mounted on the rear atop the long, slender fuselage. It had high swept wings and was comparable in size to the U.S. B58, whose publicly admitted speed is 1,500 miles per hour.

"A very impressive show," said the U.S. air attaché, Col. Melvin Neilsen. "It's evident the Russians have continued with the development of all classes of aircraft."

Western observers said the show made clear the Soviets are not pinning all their faith on long-range missiles alone.

The fighters carried air-to-air rockets instead of conventional cannon. The new bombers were armed with air-to-surface missiles instead of bombs.

Does Vertical Takeoff

The Soviets gave advance billing to a vertical takeoff plane that does not depend on a jet thrust to get it aloft. Called a "screw wing plane" it was a cross between a plane and a helicopter. Two engines were mounted at

Most Passengers African Negroes

LOURENCO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP)—The Portuguese Maritime Ministry announced today 237 persons are dead or missing and presumed dead from the grounded and burning Portuguese ship Save. Most were African Negro passengers.

The 2,037-ton transport was swept onto a sandbar in a storm Saturday in the Mozambique Channel, off Southeast Africa, and a series of explosions ripped the hull and engulfed her in flames.

490 Were Aboard

The ministry said there were 490 persons aboard the ship, including a 44-man (correct) crew, and that were saved, some of them suffering injuries.

Estimates of the total aboard previously had ranged above 500. Some of the passengers were troops, others were mine laborers.

Hard to Round Up

It was thought many of the missing swam safely ashore but landed at various points and would be hard to round up.

The Portuguese army still had not issued an announcement giving any official information.

Helicopters were ferrying the injured and other survivors to Beira and Lourenco Marques. Light aircraft were trying to land on the beach at low tide, and small boats were searching the area for survivors.

Rescue Parties Out

Rescue parties also were making their way overland to the isolated area.

The Save, named for a river in Mozambique, had sailed from Lourenco Marques with troops, laborers and military supplies for calls at northern ports in the sprawling East African colony.

Restrain Police From Asking Girl About Boy's Death

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Police have been temporarily restrained by a State Supreme Court order from questioning 15-year-old Chryl Lee Jolls, further in the kidnapping of little Andy Ashley.

The temporary order, signed Sunday by Justice William B. Lawless, directed that cause be shown today why it should not be made permanent, barring all persons from visiting the girl except her parents, legal counsel and personal physician.

Results Kept Secret

General Pak's Purge Has Strengthened His Position

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—A wholesale housecleaning of rival officers appeared today to have strengthened considerably the position of South Korea's military ruler, Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi.

Pak climaxed his purge Sunday by accusing Lt. Gen. Chang Do-Young, ousted a week ago as premier and head of the ruling junta, and 44 other officers of plotting to assassinate him in an effort to seize control of the government.

Pak, moving spirit of the May 16 coup, forced Chang out last Monday supplanted him as chairman of the junta, and named Defense Minister Song Yo-chan premier. Informed sources contended, however, that Pak's position as No. 1 man in the government still is not as strong as he would like.

The ruling inner circle, called the Supreme Council for National Reconstruction, now consists of 21 army men, 11 of the colonels and lieutenant colonels, 3 marine generals and a marine colonel, a vice admiral and an air force brigadier general. These men represent different backgrounds, especially in their military ties, and there is evidence they have different ideas on how to restore their nation.

Charged with Treason

Treason charges that could carry the death penalty were leveled against Chang and the other officers at a news conference called Sunday by the junta.

An intelligence officer said Chang and the 44 others were caught scheming to assassinate Pak and "other persons in the central force of the revolution."

The officer said the accused, including five former junta members, were picked up last Monday after failing in one attempt to stage a counter-coup and while planning another.

Chang, who was formerly army chief of staff, was accused of being a reluctant joiner of the May 16 coup masterminded by Pak to unseat Premier John M. Chang, no relation, and put South Korea under military rule.

The junta spokesman said Gen. Chang called on Gen. Carter B. Magruder, U.S. and U.N. commander at the time of the May coup, to use his American forces to block the 3,600 revolutionary troops.

Chang was also accused of turning Magruder against Pak by calling him unreliable.

The U.S. 8th Army declined to comment. Magruder retired June 30 and left for the United States the following day.

Restrain Police

ters shortly before the order was signed but Police Commissioner Frank N. Felicitia refused to discuss the results.

Police said the girl, who has been undergoing psychiatric examination at Meyer Memorial Hospital since July 3, has admitted kidnapping the Ashley boy and 5-year-old Richard Edgington but has denied drowning Andy and abducting Susan Benedict, 3.

Identified by Two

Susan and Richard, who were found bound and gagged, but otherwise unharmed, by railroad tracks, identified Chyrel as their abductor. Susan was taken from her home in April and Richard was lured from playmates June 22 the day before Andy was reported missing. Andy's body was found floating in Delaware Park Lake June 25, his hands and feet bound.

Tells Doctor

Atty. L. Robert Leisner, who said he had been retained by Chyrel's mother, presented the petition for the show cause order.

Police took Chyrel into custody July 3 and a warrant was issued Thursday, charging her with the kidnapping of the Edgington boy. It was held in abeyance, however, pending the psychiatric tests.

The girl admitted the two kidnappings to her doctor Thursday, police said, in the presence of her mother and police officials.

Over 60,000 File For Scholarships In 1962 Program

ALBANY—Over 60,000 students have already filed applications for scholar incentive awards for the spring semester of 1962, it was announced today by the State Education Department.

Applications are being received at the rate of several thousand a day. It is expected that a total of 120,000 students will be eligible to receive these awards. Total payments will amount to approximately $26 million a year.

The scholar incentive assistance program was enacted by the Legislature at its 1961 session. It was one of a number of major actions by the Legislature to increase higher education opportunities in New York State.

Scholar incentive awards, which range from $50 to $400 per semester, will be paid to New York State residents who are attending colleges in this state which charge tuition of over $100 per semester. Students must be enrolled for at least 12 semester hours in a program leading toward a degree. Community colleges and junior colleges also are approved for the award.

In order to qualify for payment during the spring semester of 1962, students must show promise, during the fall semester, of completing the degree requirements. Students entering college in February 1962 may qualify by achieving a raw score of 100 points on the Regents Scholarship Examination to be given in October 1961.

Holders of Regents scholarships and fellowships have been sent application forms. Others may obtain applications from their high school or college or directly from the State Education Department.

Walter A. Riggins

Funeral services for Walter A. Riggins of 109 Hudson Street, who died suddenly Thursday in this city were held Saturday, 2 p. m., at the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, 176 Broadway, with the Rev. David C. Gaise, DD, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, officiating. During the bereavement scores of friends called at the funeral home. Among those who called and said prayers was the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Daniel J. Shea, Friday night the council of Redeemer Church were led in devotions by the Rev. Dr. Gaise, assisted by the Rev. Ernest Helmke. That same evening members of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, conducted memorial services for their late charter member. Many floral tributes were received. Burial was in St. Remy Cemetery, where the Rev. Dr. Gaise conducted the committal. At the conclusion of the services the flag which draped the casket of the World War I veteran was presented to Mrs. Riggins. Bearers were Al Radart, Henry Fisher, George Moxham, James McCutcheon, James Gallagher, and John Kondla.

Temperatures Below Normal This Week

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 p. m. today through 7 p. m. Saturday:

Eastern New York — Gradual warming trend Tuesday and Wednesday. Turning cooler in latter part of the week, after scattered showers late Wednesday or Thursday. Another period of showers is expected by the weekend. Temperatures are expected to average 3-5 degrees below normal, and rainfall one-half inch or more.

Western New York — Seasonable weather is indicated. Temperatures are expected to average near normal. Generally fair and warmer, except for a brief turn to cooler and scattered showers about mid-week. Less than a half inch of rain is expected.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs 78-83. Nighttime lows 57-62.

Town of Esopus Vols Drill Set Tuesday Night

A fire drill for Town of Esopus fire companies will be held at the Mid-Hudson Marina, Connelly, Tuesday 6:30 p. m.

The Connelly Fire Company will be in charge and mutual aid procedures will be carried out. Fire police will be on hand to direct traffic over routes to be used by apparatus.

Interested firemen of the area and the public may attend the demonstration.

Basketball Court Being Built for Rosendale Youth

A basketball court is being built by a group of citizens of Rosendale on a village lot across from the public school, it was reported to the village board last week by George Mollenhauer, representing the group.

The village agreed to donate a truck and driver on Saturday to assist in the construction.

Mollenhauer thanked the Rosendale Fire Company, the Town of Rosendale and the Hurley Sand and Gravel Company for their contributions to the project.

The fire company cleared the lot, the town loaned two trucks and drivers for a day. The sand and gravel company donated fill. Mayor Gerard DeFelicce explained how the new water rates are computed—first, subtract the $8 debt service charge from last year's bill, then increase the remainder by 50 per cent.

This will raise enough money to pay all expenses incurred by the water department, plus making payments on the $55,000 bond which is outstanding, he said.

The board noted that the Washington Park Road leading to Route 32 will be graded as soon as the culvert at the entrance to the road is replaced. The highway will be oiled and stoned.

It was reported that no word has been received from the Fire Underwriters on the results of a test conducted recently in the village. If the village passed the test it will mean a re-classification from a Class "C" to a "B" community.

A report from the State Board of Audit and Control was placed on file and is available for public examination at the home of the village clerk, Mrs. Margaret George.

East Kingston School House Is Purchased

The two-story, four room brick school house on Newkirk Street, East Kingston, was sold at public auction today by Lawrence J. MacAvery, realtor for the Kingston School District (Consolidated) and was struck off for $3,300.

Attorney Charles J. Sacco, man bid in the premises for the Mother Cabrini Benevolent Society, which will use the premises as a club house and for meeting rooms.

The schoolhouse is no longer required since the consolidation. At the sale were approximately 30 residents of the area but bidding was sparse, only one bidder other than the successful bidder entered into the bidding.

4,000 State Laborers To Receive Increases

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller announced today that 4,000 laborers in state employ would receive salary increases totaling $2.2 million a year.

The workers will be placed on an annual salary basis and will receive such benefits as paid vacations and sick leave, which now are provided other state workers.

The laborers have been paid on an hourly, daily and, in some cases, a yearly basis. Previously, the laborers' pay ranged from $1.53 an hour, which would mean an annual salary of $3,182 a year.

Saugerties Mayor Abhors Vandalism At Village Beach

Vandalism causing considerable damage at Saugerties Municipal Beach on three successive nights this past weekend prompted a statement from Mayor George P. Holmes today.

The mayor said funds allocated for the maintenance and improvement of facilities at the bathing beach on Esopus Creek are being used to repair damage caused by vandals. This is another example of a few unthinking individuals who are destroying public property and depriving residents of the use of this free facility. He urged parents to exercise control over youngsters responsible for these acts of vandalism.

Friday night Patrolman Rex Dean Jr., responded to a call from a resident near the beach and discovered a boy on the roof of the bathhouse lighting steel wool pads and throwing them off the roof. The boy was admonished for creating a fire hazard and banned from the beach, police said.

Saturday at 5:30 a. m. while on car patrol, Patrolman Donald Sullivan, while checking the beach, discovered both bathhouse doors open. A closer check revealed that the lock on the men's dressing room had been pried off.

Some time during Sunday night vandals ripped the drinking water fountain from the wall of the beach house. The running water caused considerable erosion of sand down the beach. Patrolman Edward Sweeney checked the damage reported at 7:10 this morning.

Communists' Initiative Has Western Powers on Defensive

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communists act, the West reacts. It's been that way for years. It's that way now. It was true under Presidents Truman and Eisenhower. It's true today under President Kennedy.

Put Reds on Defensive

It raises a question: Will the West take the initiative to put the Communists on the defensive, give them the miseries?

First it was Greece and Turkey, then Indochina, then Czechoslovakia, then the Berlin blockade, then Korea, then Formosa, then Berlin again, then Cuba and riots in Latin America and now again it's Berlin.

In each case the Communists called the tune and the West danced, trying to offset them. The West has created no crises for Russia or Red China. It's been the other way around.

1. Right after the big war Russia stirred up civil war in Greece, helped the Communist rebels there, brought pressure on Turkey to get concessions and bases in the straits.

Aided Greece, Turkey

Truman reacted with the Truman plan—aid to Greece and Turkey—which not only was successful but once and for all threw off American isolationism, put the United States neck-deep in Europe's problems, shaped the future.

2. Indochina began to fall apart in 1946, although no one realized it at the time. Indochinese, led by Communists and sick of French colonial rule, began civil war. It lasted eight years. The French fought a half-hearted war, wouldn't let go.

In the end the United States helped the French. Too late. The Communists got half of Indochina. The result of all this: The United States set up Southeast Asian alliances to try to save the rest of the area from the Reds.

Draft Marshall Plan

3. In 1947—when Bulgaria, Romania, Poland, Hungary had been taken over by Communists, when Communists were the second most powerful political party in France, when Communists were rioting in Italy, when all Western Europe was in danger of economic collapse—the United States came up with its Marshall Plan.

This economic aid program saved Europe. The United States, learning the lesson, has continued the aid ever since, shifting to backward countries as time passed.

4. The west suffered a smashing blow in 1948 when Communists grabbed Czechoslovakia from within and Stalin tried to steal West Berlin with a blockade. The United States couldn't help Czechoslovakia, but it rescued Berlin with an airlift. In that same shocking year the Senate approved putting the United States into a military alliance with Western Europe for mutual defense. Russia began to look frightening. The alliance was signed April 4, 1949.

Took Over Mainland

5. That year, 1949, was momentous by itself: The Red Chinese took over mainland China, drove Chiang Kai-shek to the island of Formosa, 100 miles off the mainland. Truman said hands off, that Chiang was on his own, wouldn't protect him.

But 1950 and the Communists changed his mind. They began the Korean War. The Red Chinese got into it. The United States reacted by going to war in Korea, deciding to protect Chiang and Formosa. It's been doing so ever since.

6. Late in 1958 Premier Khrushchev picked up where Stalin left off, threatened Berlin anew, really put the heat on in 1959, threw into convulsions the West which didn't seem sure it wanted to fight for the city, set a six-month deadline.

In the end Eisenhower bailed out the West by inviting Khrushchev here. This calmed Khrushchev. He postponed the deadline, but didn't abandon it.

1958-59 Were Shockers

7. Those years—1958 and 1959—were shockers for the United States elsewhere, closer to home, and gave it an insight into Latin America it badly needed.

In 1958 Vice President Richard M. Nixon was stoned and reviled in Latin America. With the dawn of 1959 Fidel Castro, whose sympathies with communism the United States badly misunderstood, took over Cuba, began his anti-Americanism.

This realization of the depths of discontent and Communist penetration among its southern neighbors finally forced the United States into thinking of giving aid on a big scale, not in dribs and drabs.

8. As a result of all the Communist aggressiveness around the world this country in the years since 1949—when it signed its European alliance—has made similar alliances around the world in the hope it might be a dike against the Reds.

Berlin Threatened

9. Now once again Khrushchev threatens Berlin, reinstates his six-month deadline. Now once again the West is in a tizzy, seeming unsure of itself, trying to figure how it should react, what it should do, how far it should go.

YMCA Day Camp Events Changed By Cold Weather

The YMCA Day Camp, at Shokan, just completed an active second camp week of special activities, according to assistant camp director, Steve Orozco.

The program was changed throughout the week because of the cold weather. Special work was promoted in leather craft. A movie, instructions of swimming for beginners along with hikes and nature study were featured.

The contests were promoted in preparation for the mid-season olympics which will be held during the fourth week of camp, July 17. The winners were: 25 yard dash, 6 years and under John McManus; softball distance throw, Susan Clancy; 20 yard spoon and ping pong race, Marion Brown.

Seven year age events: 25 yard dash, Clifford Secor; softball throw for distance, David Korsendorfer; 20 yard spoon and ping pong ball race, Stephen Vasilevick; wheelbarrow race, Shelly Matthews and Diane Reiffelt.

Eight and nine years: 50 yard dash, Garry Schantz; softball distance throw, Douglas Clancy; 25-yard three-legged race, William Johnson and Garry Huder; 25-yard wheelbarrow race, Arlene Reiffelt and Laura Chapman.

Ten and eleven years: 50-yard dash, Willis Locke; three-legged race, Kenneth Everett and Willis Locke.

Boys 12 years and over: 50-yard dash won by Robert Kent. Girls 12 years and over: 50-yard dash won by Christine Locke.

Boys 25-yard spoon and ping pong ball race won by Louis Korsendorfer; running broad jump, Robert Kent; wheelbarrow race, 25 yards, won by Robert Kent and John Vilano; boys softball throw for distance, Robert Kent. Softball throw for girls won by Judy Stokes.

Special tests in advanced swimming strokes, including a 400 yard swim were passed by Robert Kent, Bernard Ketter, David Esteroff, Robert Mickel, Garry Schantz, Judy Posner, Arlene Reiffelt, Joseph Viano, George Greenridge, Judy Stokes, James Viano and Willis Locke.

Starting Thursday, July 13, and every Thursday will be the fishing contest. This is new in the Y camp program, as just five weeks ago the New York State Conservation Department stocked the lake with fish. During the early part of each week, campers will be taught the use of the fish pole, the baiting of the hook and the reeling in of fish. Special attention will be given to casting.

Parents desiring camp information for boys and girls between 5 and 13 years of age may contact the YMCA, 507 Broadway. The YMCA is a member agency of the Kingston Area Community Chest.

Dean of wild animal trainers, Clyde Beatty, was born in Bainbridge, Ross County, Ohio.

'OBSCOLESCENCE' WANES

The words, "planned obsolescence," have the power to infuriate the man who has to watch his budget. This grandiloquent term means to our budgeteer merely shoddy merchandise, badly made. It informs him that manufacturers seek to make him purchase their product—an automobile, or an appliance of some sort—every two or three years instead of every five or six. If he does not, he is liable to find his purchases becoming more and more unsatisfactory and in need of repair.

There are signs, happily, that a better day may be dawning. Item: the makers of a well known washing machine announce that they do not practice planned obsolescence. Item: a prominent motor company uses as its key pitch its policy of rarely changing models.

It is encouraging to note that many of those who sell merchandise oppose the idea of making consumer goods so that they will wear out or go out of style before they need to. According to Printers Ink, market men polled on the subject voted two to one against planned obsolescence. Sixty per cent of those questioned thought it wasteful, bad not only for the consumer but for the nation.

This cannot be taken as an indication that planned obsolescence is on the way out. Frequent style changes, and even the engineering of a product so that it will wear out early and need replacement have been a part of our system for quite awhile. They will not die without a struggle. But there is hope that the buyer's point of view will receive more consideration than it has in the past.

EISENHOWER REFUSES

Former President Eisenhower wisely refuses to run for the U. S. Senate from Pennsylvania in 1962. The state Republican leaders naturally thought that he would make a wonderful candidate, helping the whole ticket. While his precise words were not reported, it was announced that "he feels he has done his service."

Indeed he has, with eight years in the world's hardest job, and three bouts with serious illness. A senatorship is emphatically not a sinecure. Merely greeting visiting constituents is a chore in itself. And the real work, appalling to a conscientious man, lies in the long committee meetings and floor discussion. These tax even the younger senators.

Only two presidents have entered Congress after leaving the White House, John Quincy Adams and Andrew Johnson. Both had long previous experience in political work. It is no reflection on the former president to remark that this is not his specialty. Probably the party managers who tried to sell the idea knew all this, and are not surprised at the refusal. At least they deserve an E for effort.

WHO MUST PAY?

The head of the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, a New York Organization, has issued an important warning to the people of this country.

It amounts to this: The potpourri of government spending plans now being hatched will have to be paid for by middle and lower income groups—not by the rich.

The reason is simple enough. Taxes on big incomes have just about reached the ultimate—91 per cent at the top. And the people with big incomes are very few in number. Even if they were taxed at a 100 per cent rate in the upper brackets the resulting revenue would hardly make a noticeable dent in present federal budgets.

So, if government spending continues to soar, the man of moderate means will have to pay the bill, one way or another. No one else can. He has no way of controlling public expenditures except at elections when he can vote for or against men and measures that represent excessive extravagance, debt and taxation.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
ROBBING UNCLE SAM

Manufacturing and servicing rockets and missiles is not like making candy. As things stand today, the very life blood of the nation is dependent upon the speed and the efficiency of the production. Nevertheless, it is on the record that certain Americans have taken advantage of the urgency of this situation to place this country at a disadvantage vis-a-vis Soviet Russia.

The record shows that on February 27, 1961, the Deputy Secretary of Defense, Rosewell L. Gilpatrick, issued a memorandum which stated as follows:

"Reports have been made to this Office concerning excessive overtime work on contracts related to missile and space programs, including activities at test sites and operational sites under construction. It is particularly important at this time that our missile and space programs meet present schedules. It is also important that these programs be pursued with maximum efficiency and at reasonable cost as well as speed, and that employment opportunities be expanded wherever possible.

"Excessive overtime results in reduced efficiency, unreasonable costs, and unnecessary restriction of employment opportunities."

It is always possible to work slowly so that overtime becomes necessary. Such slow work is sabotage and this has been a fairly general practice at the missile bases. Involved in this situation are not only workers but also contractors and government officials who have been lax in their handling of improprieties. Also, it has been unfortunate that not enough publicity has been given to this subject.

General Thurman, in testifying before the Senate Permanent Committee of Investigations has taken the position that the responsibility to carry out a contract is the contractor's. He testified:

"Now, sir, I don't consider it to be mediation, conciliation, or any of those things when I tell a contractor with the Air Force who is carrying out a job at one of our missile bases and there is a strike going on, I don't consider it a violation of anything to tell that contractor 'I consider it your responsibility to find an answer to this situation, and I am expecting you to do it.' I have done it."

Senator McClellan then asked him:

"Notwithstanding the fact, now, that it may be a jurisdictional strike over which he has no control?"

To this General Thurman made this astonishing reply:

"Notwithstanding that, sir, or anything else, it is the contractor's responsibility under his contract to manage. Finding solutions to these problems is his business. We are paying him for that. And the fact that it is difficult doesn't excuse him from performance."

Unfortunately, this is nonsense. No contractor has the power to force men to work, or to force them to work efficiently. No contractor can determine whether a labor union is to order a strike or not. The government took that power from the employer by all sorts of legislation, including the Taft-Hartley Act.

The Khrushchev assumption of co-existence is that our society is soft and self-indulgent and that because of these qualities, we shall be a push-over when the time comes. Certainly a jurisdictional strike in a missile plant can only be characterized as the product of a soft society. There have been a large number of jurisdictional strikes in the missile industry; whether a strike is jurisdictional or not, it results in lost man-hours and therefore in delay of the missile program. Also, the program becomes increasingly expensive.

One day may come when the government will be forced to avoid private contractors, to manufacture its own missiles and to use military labor to get the work done. This would be an expansion of the power of government over the individual which could ultimately change our form of government.

Through 1962, the American taxpayer will have contributed $11,800,000,000 to research, development, test, production and supporting facilities for and construction for Air Force missiles other than for ICBMs. That is a heavy load for the taxpayer to pay for instruments of defense which he does not know whether he will ever use. The taxpayer wants to be sure that he gets a dollar's worth for a dollar spent. He is not getting that if he has to pay for jurisdictional strikes.

It would seem that Congress has it as a duty to establish absolute controls over the production of munitions of war so that no country can out-produce us.

Care of the Child Starts
During Growth of Embryo

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

More and more we are realizing that the care of your child begins at the time of conception. We have banished ancient fears of injuries through fright, bumps, lightning and witches' curses. But we are becoming increasingly aware of disturbances (embryopathies) due to maternal infections, such as German measles, blood incompatibilities (Rh factors) and undue exposures to radiation.

Now, in regard to the growing list of embryopathies, it is obvious that our principal efforts should be directed to prevent them. And in the field of prevention, the principal guardians of the growing embryo should and must be the prospective parents.

Thus a principal responsibility of the medical profession, in general, and of a medical columnist, in particular, is that of providing information and instruction for those prospective parents who seek to fulfill their obligations conscientiously.

Before I enter into detail, however, I must warn you that measures for preventive medicine must inevitably arouse some fears. The same is true of campaigns directed against drunken driving, jaywalking or nuclear warfare. Hence what I am about to write of the possible relationship between exposure to radiation and the growing incidence of childhood leukemia should be coolly considered and not cause panic.

Here are the facts:

The incidence of childhood leukemia is increasing at an alarming rate. Indeed, in a Midwest community, a "cluster" of cases has roused local health authorities to inquire into the possibility of some environmental cause.

The incidence of leukemia and of other malignancies was estimated to be four times more frequent in those survivors of the Hiroshima bombing who were within 1,000 meters of the exposure center.

During the earliest embryonic phase, the individual is more sensitive to radiation than he will ever be again throughout his life, according to experiments recently published by Professor Roberts Rugh of Columbia University.

And while ordinary doses of radiation delivered for the purpose of taking the usual diagnostic film do not appear to be harmful, Rugh cautions that the woman should avoid any exposure, during her child-bearing years, EXCEPT during the first nine days following the onset of menstruation. That is to say, before the egg ripens and hence before it can possibly be fertilized.

Now you will note in the previous paragraph the words "ordinary doses of radiation." And this refers, of course, to the measured amount of radiation required for diagnostic filming. But now comes a report from the New York City Department of Health showing that unnecessary overexposure to radiation was discovered in 92 per cent of diagnostic X-ray and fluoroscopic machines as a result of faulty operation or inadequate protective equipment.

In another of these columns I'll continue this discussion.

"To Save Time—in the Future Please Refer to the SPECIFIC Crisis"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—A last chance at survival as private enterprise may now be facing the U. S. eastern railroads.

In the opinion of some transportation experts, class one roads east of the Mississippi River and roughly north of a line connecting Norfolk, Louisville and St. Louis have about three years in which to reorganize to save themselves and their customers. If they don't do it, nationalization—government ownership and operation—loom within five years.

In making over the United States railroad map, the great question is whether it will be done in the public interest or just in the interest of the railroad moguls. For this is a battle of giants, with the government sitting in as referee. Hundreds of millions of dollars hang on the outcome.

WHAT IS CONSIDERED THE FIRST ACT of this epic drama is now being played in the big Interstate Commerce Commission hearing room with examiner John L. Bradford presiding.

Curtain raiser is the application of Chesapeake & Ohio—Walter J. Tuohy, president, with Cleveland financier Cyrus L. Eaton pulling strings in the wings—to control and then at some unspecified time to merge with Baltimore & Ohio, Howard E. Simpson, chairman of the board.

Completing the dramatic triangle and thickening the plot is New York Central—Alfred E. Perlman, president—who argues that any B&O and C&O merger must include NYC.

The first week of hearings played to standing room only with an all-time cast of characters. Now that the show has settled down for what appears to be a long run, the lawyers have taken over and attendance has dropped off.

BUT THE PLAY WILL GO ON FOR MONTHS. The examiner's report will be reviewed by the full ICC. There will be briefs, objections from interested parties. No decision will be handed down till next year and the whole business may end up in the courts for final decision.

ICC's fear is that if C&O and B&O merge, a large part of the midwestern freight traffic will be diverted to their system for movement to the East Coast ports of Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk and Newport News.

NYC alone would not be hurt by this. It would divert traffic from the port of New York. It would also divert traffic from the New England railroads and port of Boston. And it might hurt much north-eastern U. S. business.

It is for this reason that New York state and New England Industrial Council have intervened in these hearings to protect their interests. New York—through Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Atty. Gen. Louis K. Lefkowitz and Transportation Director Arne C. Ruprud—have petitioned that all U. S. railroad merger cases be consolidated into one ICC hearing.

So far, the commission has decided to take merger applications one at a time. This is what it has done in the past. Five rail mergers were approved in 1959, one in 1960.

But there are now nine more merger applications involving 25 class one carriers before ICC. Two involving northeastern roads are considered most important. What is done with them may set a pattern for all U. S. mergers.

One would merge the five principal New England roads—New Haven, Boston & Maine, Bangor and Aroostook, Maine Central and Rutland. The second—and this may be most important of all—would merge Norfolk & Western with Nickel Plate.

1959, Pennsylvania controls the NW and has a piece of Nickel Plate.

THIS BRINGS INTO THE CAST OF CHARACTERS Penn's board chairman, James M. Symes. Last year he broke off merger talks with NYC.

But if Pennsylvania can now get ICC approval for merger of N&W with Nickel Plate, it can be combined with other holdings into what has been described as "a system so powerful that all other eastern roads couldn't compete with it."

The most interested spectator in all these goings on is probably the Department of Justice antitrust division, represented by E. Riggs McConnell. Acting in the public interest, possibly to balance the Pennsylvania system development, Department of Justice could recommend inclusion of NYC with B&O-C&O.

ICC has authority to approve the merger of any two lines on condition that other roads be included to improve transportation. But ICC has no authority to force such mergers.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

New York — The adulation of Ernest Hemingway has subsided and silence thunders the sad emptiness of this poor mountebank's career. It is true that he founded a "style" in English prose but it is also true and sad that he never had the nobility to use it to any great moral purpose. His most abject and pushful idolators, lathering themselves with the froth of their devotion, can't point to any principle for which he fought at the slightest risk of embarrassment or unpopularity.

His ideal was nothing. Like an enormous ape he beat his barrel and bragged of his masculinity when nobody had brought that into doubt. And he advertised and got his sycophants to advertise his bravery above that of thousands of unidentified American soldiers in their teens and twenties who stumbled, scared but heroic, into battle for a false leader.

Hemingway endorsed the poor Spaniards who fought with mad courage for Madrid but without emphasizing the agony of men caught in uniform as drafted soldiers when the war exploded. Thus, ordinary soldiers, many of them refined and educated, were thrown against the rifles of a cause which they would have preferred to serve. His cult speaks his low quality, unprincipled, evasive but noisy in their cheap vanity.

It is unimportant whether Dickens or Mark Twain founded a "style." Dickens was dull but the reader's patience paid great rewards in delight and moral growth. Certainly he left his country and ours a legacy of humane improvement. Mark Twain could not look on fraud except to hate and attack it. His reflections on the inability of religious institutions to extricate man from the toils of organized slaughter were a lament for man. "Mysterious Stranger" was not a wanton insult to religion but an outcry against a madness which people have been unable to control.

Zola was a hack who was fascinated by the challenge of wrong and had to fight. The compulsion of his moral duty was irresistible. But Hemingway was uncommitted, vain and cheap. He was vain of his body and of mere acclaim from coat-holders morally no better than himself. None of his clique has ever fought for any hard cause. They are all Rooseveltians of one stripe or another. He was vain of his mere way with words which was, after all, not the expression of a noble spirit but a feat of craftsmanship. A thousand Simian imitators made themselves absurd with jerky blunts

Memo to Investors Casts Doubt on Business Upturn

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Fluctuations in the stock market are not the only sign of apprehension in the business world. Lately there have been many private expressions among businessmen to the effect that, if President Kennedy himself realized the hostility and antagonism which his lieutenants are stirring up in the business world, he would be amazed. The administration's behavior in virtually ostracizing the Business Advisory Council, which has served the U. S. Department of Commerce for many years, is a case in point.

Perhaps the most interesting of the viewpoints being expressed by businessmen is one that appeared in a memorandum privately circulated recently in different parts of the country by a trained observer. It was given in the form of advice to investors with respect to the business outlook, and was not intended in any way for publication. But excerpts from it did get into print, and here are some of them:

"I would like to call to your attention a series of developments in the political area which gives me cause for great concern in respect to the near-term outlook for business, and particularly for the vitality of this recovery."

"This development is the apparent antagonistic attitude of certain of those in the administration in Washington toward business—particularly large corporate business. My concern is not based on specific or overt statements or actions of the President himself, but rather is based on developments at the fringes of the administration."

Suggestion Produced

"Adding up the evidence which has appeared on the fringes produces a suggestion that some of those in the administration really do not know fully what makes our economic clock tick."

"If this is so, the unfavorable implications for the economy, for the stock market and for the investor cannot be overlooked and must be weighed fully in our policy thinking."

"Some of the areas which give rise to concern about the Administration's attitudes toward the business and economic community are these:

"Appointments to the Federal Power Commission and to the Interior Department to date have included a number of men with demonstrable bias in favor of public-power development. The regulated service industries—electricity, gas, communications and transportation—have made a major contribution to the economy over a period of many years."

"About $1 of every $4 business capital expenditures this year will be made by these industries. Appointment of men to key regulatory positions who are unfriendly to investor-owned utility enterprises raises serious questions."

Actions Deserve Watching
"Developing Administration attitudes toward business as expressed in a number of perhaps minor but increasingly frequent actions deserve careful watching and, in fact, careful present appraisal."

"Among these are the points of view expressed by Lee Loevinger, new head of the antitrust division of the Department of Justice, who was very critical of the size of American Telephone & Telegraph and made the positive assertion that the public service had suffered as a result of the company's size and activities. Here perhaps is the best progress of any industry in the country."

"Then there is the granting of $60-odd millions in loans to electric-power co-operatives in southern Indiana at a rate of 2 per cent. In the same category is the 'blueprinted' decree signed by the four electrical equipment manufacturers not to hurt competition by selling at low prices!"

Disturbing Trend

"In short, I can see a trend of attitude and thinking and action on the fringes of this Administration—perhaps already reaching well into it or perhaps ultimately reaching well into it—that can be highly disturbing to the American economy and to this business recovery and the ability of future business levels to handle the unemployment problem."

"It seems to me that this is the result of either one of two things:

"There is no understanding on the part of many people around the Administration as to what makes the economy tick, or—

"2. There is a determined effort on the part of some to make it necessary for the government ultimately to occupy and take over a far larger segment of responsibility—a trend toward a more socialistic state."

While the foregoing sums up the attitude also of many other observers of Washington affairs who are concerned with the economic outlook, some of the same ideas are being expressed in Congressional circles. Many members of Congress are shaking their heads, and, in talking privately, they express deep concern about the business outlook. For many weeks now, the tone of nearly all public statements has been optimistic, and it has been insisted that an economic recovery is under way.

Unquestionably, the country is recovering from the recent recession. What concerns many of the observers is not what might happen in the way of an upturn in the next few months, but whether a deep recession might be taking place in 1962—an election year. This, of course, would hurt the Democratic party, whereas a consistent boom would naturally help the party in power.

Gordon Elected To Eighth Term
As OCS President

Philip Gordon of Phoenicia was elected to his eighth consecutive term as president of the Ontario Central Schools District Board of Education, at the July reorganizational meeting of the board.

Gordon, a Phoenicia druggist, has been a member of the board continuously since 1948 and was first elected president in 1954.

The office of vice president, which was discussed a year ago, was finally created and the post went to Mrs. Marie Kleine of Shady.

Reappointments by the board included: George Finigan, district clerk; Mrs. Janie Silkworth, district treasurer; Francis Hannigan, tax collector. The Kingston law firm of Connelly and Connelly was reappointed district school attorneys.

Other appointments included Stanley Haug, auditor; Mrs. Ruth Bark and Mrs. Hazel Osborne, attendance officers; Francis Hanigan, census enumerator; Edward S. Witke, director of Adult Education, with Mrs. Marjorie Black as secretary.

Dr. Charles Quinn of Phoenicia was reappointed school physician with the following as his associates: Dr. Paul LePaige, Dr. Kenneth Bremer, Woodstock; Dr. John McKee, Phoenicia; Dr. Edward Shea, Kingston; Dr. Samuel Porter, Phoenicia, school dentist.

Other Appointments Stanley Haug of West Shokan and Carroll Simpson of Phoenicia were reappointed to the insurance advisory committee. Official banks for the school were designated as the Phoenicia branch of the Kingston Trust Company and The Bank of Orange County, Woodstock branch.

Designated as official newspapers for advertising and publication purposes were the Kingston Daily Freeman, Ulster County Townsman and Woodstock Record-Press.

Dr. George R. Sullivan, the new district principal, attended the meeting. He succeeds William H. Deming, who resigned the post several months ago. Dr. Sullivan will receive a starting salary of $13,500 a year.

Raymond C. Cruthers of West Shokan officially began his full term as a new trustee. He defeated David R. Fox of West Hurley in a special election for the post vacated by John Haggerty of West Hurley.

Making up the board for the 1961-62 calendar year are: Philip Gordon, president; and trustees Arthur Knight, Harry Allen, Edward G. West, John Aalto, Marie Kleine, Anne Larys and Janet Greene.

Grievance Day
Set for Tuesday

MUSIC SCHOLARSHIPS—Shown above are six Ontario High School music students who have been awarded scholarships at the University of Vermont Summer Music Session. The winners, from the left: Valentine Bruno, Vicki Williams, Patricia Keator, Diana Munch, Patti Adsit and Lynn Janick. The scholarship fund is established from the proceeds of the annual music department spring concert.

Two students from each major organization (chorus, orchestra, and band) will represent Ontario at the University of Vermont. At the University of Vermont, the band and orchestra are of symphonic proportions. The chorus consists of 100 mixed voices. There are in addition some 30 vocal and instrumental ensembles.

The performing groups rehearse twice a day. Private lessons in instruments and voice are given by instructors distinguished for their performing skill as well as for their teaching ability.

Congressional Record Not Always Exact Transcript

WASHINGTON (AP)—When is a record not always a record? Answer: When it's the Congressional Record.

The Congressional Record is the bible of Capitol Hill, as it is for many citizens who make it their business to keep up with what Congress is doing.

Yet this daily journal of what is said and done in both houses is not an exact transcript at all times. The reason is contained in three words — "revise and extend."

Representatives who rise to address the House invariably precede their remarks with this sentence: "I ask unanimous consent to revise and extend my remarks."

The unanimous consent is always given. And the formula gives the speaker the right to edit what he says, as taken down by the official shorthand reporters. He may change a word, add a sentence or a paragraph, leave out a section.

Senators have the same right, although they do not often use the revise and extend formula on the floor. When the record appears the next day, it carries the changed version, not the exact words that were said on the floor, if the member has exercised his revise and extend privilege.

It is impossible for a reader to tell that something has been changed, left out or added.

Some senators and representatives don't think this is right. They argue that the Congressional Record should be an exact public record available to all without any monkeying with the script.

One of these is Rep. Paul C. Jones, D-Mo., who also objects to the high cost of producing the Record. He said recently that a survey he made showed "we could save about $1 million a year by limiting the kind of extraneous things printed in the Record's appendix, such as the winning essay in a high school

Asthma Formula Prescribed
Most By Doctors—Available
Now Without Prescription

Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!

New York, N.Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms.

This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that now it can be sold—without prescription in most states—in tiny tablets called Primatec. These Primatec Tablets open bronchial tubes, loosen congestion, relieve taut nervous tension. All without painful injections.

The secret is—Primatec combines 3 medicines (in full prescription strength) found most effective in combination for asthma distress. Each performs a special purpose.

So look forward to sleep at night, and freedom from asthma spasms. Primatec only $8, at any drugstore.

New Civil Rights Laws Needed Says NAACP Head

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says President Kennedy "has made an error" in failing to prod Congress for new civil rights legislation.

But the secretary, Roy Wilkins, insisted he wasn't quarreling with the Kennedy administration, nor castigating it for the President "has done fine in appointment of Negroes to high offices" and eliminating segregation policies in plants that do business with the government.

"But we need more laws immediately, not only action under existing laws," Wilkins told a news conference Sunday on the eve of the NAACP's 52nd annual convention. It opens a week of sessions tonight with some 1,200 delegates representing nearly 380,000 members in 45 states.

The NAACP, in a 72-page report issued at New York, credited efforts by its members in 1960 as responsible for many victories against discrimination. "The civil rights victory is just around the corner," the report said.

Wilkins echoed that view, pointing out "the NAACP has created nationwide opinion that has made segregation dead. But there is no doubt that segregation practices will continue and we will continue to fight them."

He praised the "Freedom Riders" in the South, saying their actions have awakened the complacent in the North who have thought that segregation is really over. "It has jolted the North," he said.

Wilkins, however, declined to say whether NAACP members should join the rider project sponsored by the Congress on Racial Equality.

"We have other things to do," he said, such as ensuring the right to vote to every Negro, making housing available to anyone anywhere, eliminating all racial discrimination "where it is imposed by government and this occurs in the North as well as the South."

Water Pollution Control Project Grant Approved

Confirmation of federal government approval of a $102,270 grant to help Kingston finance a $340,000 water pollution control project to eliminate dumping of the city's sanitary sewage into the Hudson River and Rondout Creek was received from Albany today by Mayor Edwin F. Radel.

Associate Chemical Engineer Donald B. Stevens, State Department of Health, officially notified Radel that the city's application for the grant for sewage treatment work has been approved by the Public Health Service, Washington, and the city is eligible for federal aid.

Stevens noted the offer of the grant should be accepted by Common Council resolution before July 28.

Radel said he hopes to be in a position to submit the matter to the Council for resolution at Tuesday night's meeting.

Senator Kenneth B. Keating (R-N. Y.) was advised last Wednesday about approval of the grant by the federal authorities in Washington, D. C.

Radel said that the $102,270 will be turned over to the city from federal funds allotted New York State for such projects.

The mayor noted recently that the water pollution control project would make it possible to treat all sanitary sewage of the city at the treatment plant, with proposed additions to the collection system and the plant itself.

At present, 60 per cent of the city's sanitary sewage is treated at the city's treatment plant and 40 per cent is dumped into the river and creek.

Three Hurt Here In 3-Car Crash

Three persons were injured at 1:55 p. m. Sunday when the cars in which they were riding were involved in a three-car collision on Delaware Avenue at Moore Street, according to police.

Authorities said Alfred Fabiano, 41, of 30 Willow Street, was driving his 1958 car east on Delaware Avenue when the brakes apparently failed. His car struck a stopped vehicle operated by Robert Edward Davis, 43, of 88 Shufeldt Street, and a second vehicle operated by Gertrude Bowers, 42, of 53 Lawrence Street, who also was stopped in a line of traffic.

Davis was treated at Benedictine Hospital for back and leg injuries. A passenger in his car, Ray W. Davis, 41, of Holiday Lane, was treated for injuries of the right arm.

Mrs. Bowers complained of injuries to her neck, back and arm, and told police she would see the family physician.

All three cars were damaged, according to a report of Patrolmen George Deyo and Anthony Turk.

Aaron Burr, a former U. S. vice president, was desirous of making himself an emperor at one time.

YMCA Names New Youth Director

LEON VAN HEUSEN

The YMCA Board of Directors today named Leon I. Van Heusen of Newark, N. J., as youth director beginning Aug. 1. Announcement was made by Chester A. Baltz, board president.

Van Heusen is a graduate of Springfield College with a bachelor of science degree in group work and community organization. He has a wide background in the promotion of YMCA youth activities having been connected with both boys and girls work for many years in other associations. He has served the YMCA's in Maine, Connecticut, New Jersey and New York State.

At the Trenton, N. J., YMCA, where he has been the youth director for the past three years, he was responsible for the youth club and special unit building program. He promoted a strong craft shop and organized Trenton's first summer Fun Club for youth.

He organized and promoted the day camp and adventure trips when he was associated with the Mechanicsville YMCA. He has promoted many Gr-Y Clubs for grammar school children as well as developed Hi-Y clubs for high school boys and girls. It is expected that he will develop and promote a new program for boys 6 and 7 years of age called Indian Guides, a father and son program which many YMCA's have started.

The new youth director is an accomplished swimming instructor. He is an accredited and certified instructor in the American Red Cross life saving service and the National YMCA Life Saving and Aquatic Program. Van Heusen, along with secretary Louis H. Schaffer and physical director, Steve Orozco will give the local YMCA three men all certified with college degrees in group work and community organization, as well as in physical education.

The Board of Directors with its numerous committees and the three staff members soon will plan one of the largest youth and adult activity program ever promoted in the local association. This program will cover the gymnasium, swimming pool, special exercise room, boy's game room, craft shop and youth center.

The Young Men's Christian Association is a member agency of the Kingston Area Community Chest.

Permission Withdrawn

LONDON (AP) — Britain has withdrawn permission for a U.N. investigating committee to enter its Bechuanaland protectorate because the group refused to promise to keep out of neighboring South West Africa.

The committee has instructions to investigate charges of racial discrimination in the territory of South West Africa administered under an old League of Nations mandate by the white supremacist government of South Africa.

Congress Back Working

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress starts a plodding week of action today, getting back into gear after a long Fourth of July recess.

Three key bills—foreign aid, the National Defense Education Act, and the farm bill—may emerge from Senate committees this week. But neither house has scheduled action on any major measures.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircraft, steel and tobacco helped carve out a moderate stock market advance in routine trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .50 at 247.50 with industrials up 1.00, rails up .10 and utilities up .20.

Key stocks rose from fractions to a point or better. A scattering of small losses put a brake on the averages.

Aircraft made fairly substantial gains as they responded to renewed emphasis on defense. Steels perked up also.

Boeing rose more than a point. Up about a point were Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Lockheed and North American Aviation.

American Tobacco gained more than 3 in response to further investment demand. Gains of a point or so were scored also by Reynolds Tobacco, Schering, United Reynolds Tobacco, Schering, United Fruit, Woolworth, DuPont and Phelps Dodge.

Convention Dates For Republicans, Democrats Listed

The 1961 fall political campaign will get underway Saturday, July 15, when Republican caucuses will be held. Delegates to the Republican County convention will be selected at that time.

The Republican County convention will be held Saturday, July 22, at 11 a. m. at Kingston Municipal Auditorium at which time county candidates will be recommended.

The Republican City convention will be held Monday, July 24, at 8 p. m. at the county court house at which time city candidates will be recommended.

Democratic county and city conventions will be held Monday, July 24, at the Municipal Auditorium. The county convention, called for 8 p. m., will be followed by the city convention.

County-Wide Offices

Offices to be filled this fall are:

County Judge and District Attorney selections are to fill vacancies. County Judge Louis G. Bruhn resigned to become Supreme Court Justice and District Attorney Raymond J. Mino was appointed County Judge by Governor Rockefeller. To fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mino, Attorney David W. Corwin of New Paltz was named by the governor to the post of district attorney. Both are expected to be candidates for the office which they now hold by appointment.

County Treasurer, a position now held by Fred H. DuBois of New Paltz. It is expected he will be the Republican choice for reelection.

Coroner, a position held by Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson, who is expected to be selected to succeed himself at the Republican convention.

In addition to the county offices to be filled this fall, there will be election of town and city supervisors and in the towns a full slate of town officers.

Offices in Kingston

Kingston voters will elect a mayor, alderman-at-large, city judge and supervisors and aldermen.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel is expected to be the Democratic choice with Alderman-at-Large Harold Kays as a running mate. City Judge Aaron Klein seems the probable choice of the Democratic party for re-election as city judge.

On June 13 former Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for mayor and two days later Alderman Samuel J. Perry, Fifth Ward, announced he would seek the Republican nomination for mayor. Runningmate for the Republican nominee hinges on the selection of a candidate.

Exams for Peace Corps This Week

Area citizens who wish to serve in the Peace Corps will have an opportunity to qualify by taking examination Thursday and Friday, July 13 and 14, starting at 8:30 a. m. according to Leo W. Darwak, Civil Service secretary.

Tests will be given in Civil Service Room 3, Central Post Office, this city, which has been opened as the Peace Corps Testing Center.

Friday tests will be given for those applicants who have a college degree and wish to teach in secondary schools. They may choose from mathematics, physics, biology, English, chemistry and other subjects.

Thursday tests will be for all Peace Corps assignments. Persons who are sent in Peace Corps questionnaires since tests on May 27 and June 5, and those who submitted questionnaires prior to the last test but did not take the test, have been invited to take examinations this week.

9 Hurt in Traffic

Sunday which piled up two other vehicles, injuring five, a resulting in the arrest of two of the drivers, state police reported.

Those Injured

Injured identified by state police are:

Mrs. Helen Gardella, 52 of Woodside, L. I., treated and released at Kingston Hospital, possible cervical sprain. She was a passenger in a car operated by John Poletto, 50, also of Woodside.

Claiming head and neck injuries, treated and released at Benedictine Hospital were Selmer Gullestad, 52; Mrs. Marie Gullestad, also 52, and Briget Olsen, 51, all of Brooklyn. All three were passengers in a car operated by Alf Olson, 65, of Brooklyn.

Also treated at Benedictine Hospital and released was Mrs. Jofrid Bilstad, 30, of Brooklyn, injuries to left arm and right hand. She was a passenger in the car of Sigmund Bilstad, 22, of Brooklyn.

To Get Summonses

None of the drivers were reported injured, troopers said, however two were issued summonses.

Olsen, arrested for failure to keep right, paid a $10 fine, imposed by Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert Steigle. Bilstad, arrested for following too close, (tailgating) was also fined $10 by Judge Steigle.

Trooper David Wachtel said the 1956 sedan of Poletto was proceeding east on Route 28, about 1,000 feet east of the intersection of Route 28A, and was attempting to make a left turn off the highway into a parking area. The Olson 1954 sedan and the Bilstad 1957 vehicle were travelling east in the center lane and piled up into the slowing Poletto car, troopers said.

Vehicle Damaged

The Bilstad vehicle was heavily damaged, Trooper Wachtel reported. This mishap occurred at 12 noon.

In another mishap Sunday at 9:45 p. m., Frank Bienert of Krumville, driving a 1961 sedan on Route 213 near Stone Ridge was injured when his car proceeding west on Route 213 struck a utility pole on the left side of the highway and went over an embankment, troopers said.

According to Trooper Thomas J. Morrissey, the driver suffered lacerations of the nose and ear, but was not hospitalized.

Earlier, at 2 a. m., a 16-year-old Glasco youth driving a 1958 sedan on Glasco Turnpike near Shults Corners, failed to negotiate a curve, went off the shoulder of the highway and struck a utility pole with the right rear of the vehicle.

Must Appear in Court

Troopers said John Sangi suffered lacerations of the head and eye and was treated by his own physician.

Young Sangi was issued a summons by Trooper John Salter for leaving the scene of an accident and must appear before Saugerties Town Justice of the Peace William D. Brinnier at a future date.

Phoenicia sub-station investigated a traffic accident Sunday morning on Old Quarry Road, Woodstock in which two passengers were injured in a car operated by Vincent Coons, 22 of Pine Grove Street, Woodstock, troopers said.

State police identified the injured as John Culjak, 23 of 35 Hudson Street, possible cervical sprain, and Alfred Secreto, 21 of 32 Broadway, slight contusions of the forehead. Both told troopers they would see their own physicians.

Trooper Charles Bundschuh said the Coons 1950 sedan owned by Helen Coons of Woodstock, was proceeding south on the Old Quarry Road, when the vehicle went out of control, ran off the highway and struck a tree. The driver was reported uninjured, troopers said. The time of the mishap was 5:30 a. m.

21 Killed Over Weekend Period, 15 Die on Roads

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Accidents killed 21 persons in New York State over the weekend after the July 4th holiday, when 50 died.

Traffic accidents took 15 lives during the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday night, compared with 26 in the 102-hour holiday period.

During the weekend, three persons were drowned and three died in other types of accidents.

Two men were killed Sunday night in the collision of a car and motorcycle on Staten Island, two brothers died in a truck-auto crash Saturday, and two women were killed Friday night when an automobile struck an embankment.

Stanley Boloski, 21, of Staten Island was killed in the automobile-motorcycle collision.

There was no immediate identification of the second dead man, the motorcycle rider.

Two brothers died in a truck-auto crash Saturday, and two women were killed Friday night when an automobile struck an embankment.

The brothers, James Echevarria, 19, and Michael, 14, of Walton, died when a car in which they were riding smashed into the rear of a parked milk truck at Franklin, Delaware County.

The women, Mrs. Katherine Corte, 42, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Nelly Ward, 60, of West New York, N. J., were killed in a crash in 18th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS with ZONE, SIZE and STYLE NUMBER.

Family Ties Are Renewed After 200-Year Period

JOHNSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—The paths of an English baronet and an American newspaperman crossed by coincidence at the ancestral home the Englishman's forebears fled during the American Revolution.

The result, the men said, was the first meeting between branches of an American pioneer family in 200 years.

William Heathcote deLancey of the Geneva Times, on a vacation trip to Vermont with his wife, stopped for the night at this Mohawk Valley community.

While she was mailing postcards, he said, he saw a small museum, Johnson Hall, built by the founder of the community.

He took his wife inside and, as they left, he signed the guest book.

The name above his: Sir John

Johnson, Sixth Baronet of New York.

DeLancey and his wife hurried back to their hotel, to begin a search for Johnson, a distant relative.

The baronet and his wife were staying at the hotel. Moments later, the couples met.

The Johnsons had revisited Johnstown to hold a reception to repay the townspeople for their kindness during a July 4th celebration last year, when they had been guests of the community.

DeLancey said that the second baronet of New York, Sir John Johnson, married Mary (Polly) Watts, whose mother was a DeLancey. Her grandfather, James deLancey, was lieutenant governor of the New York Colony in 1715.

When the Revolutionary War broke out, the Johnsons fled to Nova Scotia and remained loyal to the King of England.

The DeLanceys remained in America, and, in 1868, moved to Western New York.

Sir John said that he attempted, during a stop in New York City, to find a DeLancey in the telephone book. "I didn't know there were any DeLanceys left," he said.

There is a street named for the family, however.

Today, the Johnsons leave for Montreal and England as scheduled, and the DeLanceys resume their trip to Vermont.

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Children Always Remember A Spontaneous Happening

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

She was 21 and had just blown up at her parents for refusing to announce her engagement until she finished college.

"It was mother who put daddy up to making us wait, I know it was!" she told me. It's sickening the way he listens to her! Of course, she can be decent sometimes. But holy cow, can she make me wild! The funny thing is when I really hate her as I do right now I always remember something . . .

I made no comment. "I guess I'll tell you what it was," she went on. "Mother says I wasn't more than two years old when it happened. Anyway, daddy was away and she and I were alone in the house. She says it was a very cold late winter night and it had started snowing outside and she suddenly felt terribly lonely. Anyway, she woke me up and we had a picnic on the living room floor.

"It's really funny however I get really furious at her I always remember how the fire looked in the fireplace and how good the applesauce tasted. She let me light the candles in the silver candlesticks. We lay on our stomachs and watched the flames in the fireplace and imagined things. . . ."

It's "illegal" to wake a baby up in the middle of the night for a picnic on the living room floor. Thank God, the law was broken.

Because if we lack the courage to break the laws of child care now and then, the vivid memories that link us to children as persons don't get made. And oh, how we need such linking memories to hold us together as time and changes strain and stretch our knowledge of one another.

So I'm all for waking small ones up in the middle of the night for a picnic on the living room floor. I'm for sudden ups and dashings away from dinner tables to see three robin's eggs in a grape arbor nest. I'm for breaking cars at carnivals in strange towns and for rides on their shabby carousels, in short, I'm for surprises, impulses, unplanned excursions and those once-in-a-blue-moon privileges that most wisely break us out of the parent-policeman image of us as the defenders of child care law.

The sadness is, too many of us have been bewitched by the solemn nonsense which says:

"Break rules at your peril. Once broken, like Humpty Dumpty, they can never be put together again."

It's sad nonsense because children know better than we do how to respect the uniqueness of a spontaneous joy. They know that it is only lived once and can never be duplicated.

Lawrence Chosen

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP)—Lloyd R. Lawrence has been named vice president of Colgate University, effective Aug. 1.

Everett Case, university president, announced the appointment Sunday and said Lawrence would be in charge of development.

Lawrence succeeds Howard L. Jones, who resigned to become president of Northfield Schools in Massachusetts.

Lawrence is an executive of Product Engineers magazine, published by McGraw Hill.

Six million cases of disease were reported among the three million Union troops who served in the Civil War.

matter of FACT

An exciting way to win a bride was the "love chase." The Kirghiz peoples of Siberia awarded a bride to the man who could catch her in a race. The bride could use a whip on her horse, and on suitors she didn't care for. She usually managed to be "caught" by the man she'd wanted all along.

State Committee Will Tour Migrant Farm Labor Camps

A tour of farm labor camps throughout New York State has been planned by the Joint Legislative Committee on migrant labor. This tour will cover those sections of the state which have been visited during previous years by this committee and is being done to determine progress made in housing, public attitudes, social improvements and additional educational advantages which have been made through legislative enactments and departmental pronouncements over the past year.

Camps in the lower part of Ulster County are expected to be among those to be visited. Dates for the tour were made tentative at a meeting of the Joint Legislative Committee held here Thursday.

Crops Will be Late
Due to the lateness of the planting and growing season in most sections of the state, the time of occupancy of labor camps will depend largely on the maturity season. As a consequence, no definite time for the state tour was designated.

Thursday's meeting which was held under the direction of Assemblyman Alonzo L. Waters, committee chairman, concerned itself with a review of seasonal farm labor operations in the state made by Harry N. Haight, field director for the committee. Haight has made several inspection trips to labor camps both prior to their occupancy and after the arrival of the migrant workers. Haight reported that approximately the same number of migrant workers will be necessary to harvest New York State's vegetable and fruit crops as that of a year ago when some 35,000 workers were employed for two or more months during the summer and fall.

Because of the advent of mechanization in the harvest of some field crops, a change in the employment pattern is being noted as a result of a shift from vegetable to orchard work. As a consequence, the migrant crews are being held in New York State later to accommodate the fruit growers.

The committee finds that this is bringing into the state some additional problems, particularly where school-age children accompany their parents here.

Classrooms Needed
It means that many school districts will have to provide classroom space and instructional services for more children of this labor force and for a longer period as heretofore many of the families left for their home state at the start of the fall school term.

The committee noted with interest the increase in child care centers proposed for this year, most of which will start their operations by mid-July. The increase in the share of operational costs being made by the state, which now pays 90 per cent of the total cost, has been an influencing factor in the number of these facilities made available to the youngsters too young to be employed.

The number of school districts where summer classes for migrant children are being established is also showing some increase over that of previous years.

The committee was informed that there is an increasing awareness of responsibility on the part of state departments charged with the enforcement of laws pertaining to labor camps and the employment of seasonal farm workers.

Certification Withheld
Approval of certification is being withheld from all camps by the State Health Department unless they meet approved standards. Apparently a number of the larger camps which have been substandard in some respects will not be opened this year and the crews normally assigned to these have been dispatched to camps which have met Health Department standards.

New York State's attitude toward the migrant and his family and the controls placed through legislative action and departmental codes has given it top standing in the United States. The Joint Legislative Committee on Migrant Labor over the years has been responsible for a large amount of this corrective legislation.

Edgar Allen Poe once attended West Point, but was dismissed within six months because of neglect of duty and disobedience.

Nixon Is Leading Man, But Rocky Could Get Spot

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican senator says former Vice President Richard M. Nixon is the leading contender for the GOP presidential nomination in 1964 but he might be replaced by Gov. Rockefeller.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said that if Nixon's influence wanes during the 1962 elections, "it is not impossible that you then would have a Rockefeller-Goldwater ticket."

He referred to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., leader of the Republicans' conservative bloc.

Scott, a former Republican national chairman, made the comments Sunday in a program taped in Washington for use by New York radio and television stations.

Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., Republican national chairman, has suggested a Rockefeller-Goldwater ticket.

The suggestion was rejected both by Goldwater and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a Rockefeller associate.

Scott said Nixon did not need to BRIDGE Open at the Top of a Doubleton

When you open a doubleton, the standard rule is to open the top. When you open a suit of three cards or more, you open the third best from three and the fourth best from four or more unless you have certain high card combinations.

Here is the table of high card leads against a suit contract: Lead ace from suit headed by ace without the king. It is always dangerous to underlead an ace against a suit contract.

Lead king from ace-king or king-queen.

Lead queen from queen-jack-ten or queen-jack-nine.

Lead jack from king-jack-ten, jack-ten-nine, or jack-ten-eight.

Lead ten from king-ten-nine, queen-ten-nine, ten-nine-eight, or ten-nine-seven.

Episcopal Church Takes on Japanese Air for Wedding

SKANEATELES, N.Y. (AP) — An Episcopal Church in this Finger Lakes village took on a Japanese air for the wedding of Miss Yuko Matsumoto and Kelsie Yawata, both of Japan.

About 400 persons jammed St. James Episcopal Church Saturday, in response to the couple's public invitation.

The bride, following Japanese tradition, wore a kimono of brocade white dacron, trimmed with scarlet, and a 15-foot obi of gold and burnt orange. Yawata wore a business suit.

Yawata, in this country for about a year as a student, had become acquainted with the Rev. David Gillespie, rector of St. James, through mutual friends in Japan. The Rev. Mr. Gillespie officiated at the marriage ceremony.

The bride came to America 13 days ago, for the wedding. The couple planned a wedding trip to Vermont.

California is the leading state of the U.S. in the slaughter of cattle and calves.

Byrd's Political Group Challenged

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The hardest fought democratic primary battle in a dozen years winds up in Virginia Tuesday with the durable political organization of Sen. Harry F. Byrd challenged for the state's three top offices.

An estimated 400,000 voters will decide the outcome of the bitter Democratic family feud by nominating party candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general.

Consensus of the political pulse takers is that the organization candidate for governor, former attorney general Albert S. Harrison Jr., has a comfortable lead over A. E. Stephens, the present lieutenant governor who broke ties recently with the Byrd forces.

And it is the race for lieutenant governor and attorney general that appears to be providing most of the uncertainty in usual ly predictable primary fights in Virginia.

In the contest for lieutenant governor, State Sen. Mills E. Godwin, the strongly conservative organization candidate, is matched against State Sen. Armistead L. Boothe, a moderate on the school issue and a foe of the school-closing laws when Virginia was trying massive resistance to integration.

While Harrison, 54, is urging the nomination of the entire organization team, several newspapers who support him have called for nomination of Boothe and the candidate for attorney general on the opposition ticket, T. Munford Boyd, a University of Virginia law professor. A number of others including the Richmond papers, the state's largest, are backing the straight organization ticket.

Florida boasts of having 30,000 lakes, at least 600 species of fish and more than 3,000 varieties of flowering plants.

Attack on Lake Diversion Plan Seen as Scheme

CHICAGO (AP) — A three-point attack on Chicago's lake diversion plans "is simply a move to sway public opinion on the case now before the U.S. Supreme Court," a Chicago official maintains.

Frank E. Chesrow, president of the Metropolitan (Chicago) Sanitary District, and Albert J. Meserow, denied charges published in a New York State Power Authority brochure.

The publication, entitled "Pollution of the Illinois Waterway," claimed that diversion of more water by Chicago from Lake Michigan would cause a hardship to other Great Lakes States and Canada.

version plan did not have statewide support in Illinois and that wastes from Chicago were polluting the Illinois Waterway.

Chesrow and Meserow said that the diversion of an additional 1,000 cubic feet of water per second from the lake would lower the lake level only a fraction of an inch.

They said the diversion plan had statewide support, including that of the governor, and the pollution charge "just isn't so."

Warned Men

Mark Twain warned men not to take their dog to heaven. He wrote: "Heaven goes by favor. If it went by merit, you would stay out and the dog would go in."

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received an interesting newspaper from Attorney Peter H. Harp of New Paltz. It is the Kingston Democratic Journal, dated July, 1855. I take it, this was published several days before the 4th of July. An item reads: "National Anniversary, 1776—Fourth of July—1855. The 79th anniversary of American Independence will be celebrated at Kingston Wednesday, July 4, 1855. The Committee of Arrangements reports the following."

The order of the day, for the 4th of July, 1855, some 106 years ago in Kingston was, "One gun at midnight. One gun at daybreak. A national salute at sunrise." At 10 a. m. the procession formed at East Front Street, (in front of Schryver's Hotel in 1855) under the command of Col. W. A. Cockburn, marshal of the day, assisted by his aides, John C. Perry, Peter E. Cole and William M. Hayes.

This was followed by the Kingston Brass Band, Brigadier General Henry A. Samson, and staff. Then came the Kingston Guards, under command of Capt. T. H. Haillenbeck, followed by martial music, the National Grays, under command of Capt. S. S. Westbrook, and Col. G. E. Bushnell and staff.

This was followed by the Kingston Fire Department under the command of William Hendricks, chief engineer, and J. S. Near, assistant, in the following order:

American Co. No. 1, W. H. Stickle's For'n. Niagara Co.; No. 2, A. J. Story; Washington Co. No. 3, A. S. Schutt, Excelsior Co. No. 4, J. H. Dumond and Excelsior Hose No. 4, M. Hogan. Then came the Committee of Arrangements. Orator and reader. The clergy, President of the day. Corporation and civil officers and citizens generally.

The 79th anniversary of the American Independence was further celebrated in Kingston Wednesday, July 4, 1855, by the procession moving, under the firing of cannon and ringing of bells, (right resting on Main Street, down East Front Street to Pearl, down Pearl to Green Street, through Green and Crown to North Front Street, down North Front to Bridge Street, up Bridge and around the square; then down Bridge and up North Front to Wall Street, down Wall to St. James, up St. James to East Front down East Front to "The Valley, where will be the following "order of exercises."

Services commenced by an address to the Throne of Grace by the Rev. George Water. Then music. Reading of the Declaration of Independence by George H. Sharp, Esq. Then "discharge of cannon," more music, then an oration, and again "discharge of cannon" and more music. Benediction was by the Rev. R. A. Chalker.

After the ceremonies the procession was formed again and moved up East Front to Liberty Street, down Liberty to Rondout Avenue, up the avenue to St. James, up St. James to East Front, up East Front to Maiden Lane, up the Lane to Fair Street, up Fair to Main, up Main to Schryver's Hotel, where a dinner was held.

I know official moving pictures, and especially in color are not taken of our present day parades as they could be. Can you imagine, seeing the above 1855 Parade of July 4th, in color movies today, and hear the voices and the music, and see the streets, as they were. So many changes have taken place, and so many more will take place in the next ten years. I think pictures in color should be taken of our streets on parade days, and kept in the City Hall for historic purposes.

Hope Next One Contains Wiggler Picking Up Capsules With Instruments In Is Routine

By ROBERT MYERS
HICKAM AIR FORCE BASE, Hawaii (AP) — Air Force fliers who plucked another Discoverer nose cone from the sky on its return from space hoped today that the next aerial recovery "gives us something that wiggles."

BLIND FOR 43 YEARS...

SHE SEES AGAIN! Mrs. Violetta Nider, 50, a refugee from Yugoslavia, regained her sight last year... after being blind for 43 years! At a camp near Naples, she was examined and found operable. A month later in a Geneva Hospital, she could see completely from one eye, partially from the other. The miracle of sight had been restored!

The happy outcome was a direct result of Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this case is Catholic—all three faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain far-reaching programs that provide basic foods, clothing, shelter, jobs, education, tools and equipment—to the millions in need overseas.

Mrs. Nider's case is dramatic.
A glass of milk for a hungry child can be dramatic, too! These programs must continue. They offer the only hope to millions. When you are asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember "blind" Mrs. Nider. Give generously!

could be brought back into the earth's atmosphere. "But next time," said one, "please, let's have something alive in there.
These instruments are getting routine."

Discoverer XXVI's instrument-jammed nose cone was snagged in the air by a C119 recovery plane Sunday as the space packet parachuted 270 miles northwest of Hawaii. The twin-engine plane, one of eight circling over the impact area, made the catch on its first pass with its trailing trapeze-like hoods. The recovery came just 29 minutes after the capsule was kicked loose from space over Kodiak, Alaska.

4th Aerial Grab
It was the fourth aerial grab of a Discoverer cone. Two others were fished from the sea.

The gold-plated capsule, sealed in a gray canister, was flown to Sunnyvale, Calif., Sunday night for examination by space scientists. It had circled the globe 32 times on a polar orbit since its launching Friday from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Contents of the capsule were not disclosed but an Air Force spokesman said nothing aboard was alive.

Greeting the pilot, Capt. Jack R. Wilson, 37, of Toledo, Ohio, were the two other pilots to effect aerial recoveries. Capt. Harold Mitchell of Bloomington, Ill., who made the first catch 11 months ago, and Capt. Gene Jones of Dayton, Wash., who snagged two capsules, presented cigars to the beaming Wilson.

It 'Twinkled'
Wilson said the nose cone
"looked like it was twinkling, like it had a battery of lights on it" as it floated down through a layer of clouds. "We first spotted it about 20,000 feet above us," he said.

The nose cone spent 50 hours and 36 minutes in space attached to the 25-foot-long second stage of the Discoverer rocket. The release was triggered at Sunnyvale, the Air Force disclosed.

The election of four members to Saugerties Central Schools Board of Education will be held Wednesday at Main, Street School between the hours of 12 noon and 9 p. m.

There are eight candidates running for the four positions open. There have been many askings why they may not vote for four candidates of their choice, rather than one specific candidate for one specific opening. The answer to this is that at the time of centralization it was generally agreed that the old school districts should be allowed to keep their district representation on the centralized board, with four members representing the village, one from Glasco, and four from the outlying districts.

This has been adhered to since that time, with the exception of one case, which this year's election will correct with the election of Henry Breitenbach, who is running unopposed in the High Woods area.

A ballot as it will appear on the voting machines Wednesday will indicate the following: Norman Nitschke, Charles Olinger, both of Barclay Heights, and Jack Pakagen of Oakledge Park, all residents of the former district 10 (village) are candidates for the term of one year created by the resignation of Kenneth Beadle.

Mrs. Sarah Brandt of Quarry-ville, and Edward Somers of the village are vying for the three-year term vacated by Mrs. Mary Lasher of Saxton. Sheldon Fuller is opposing Steve Stycos, who is running for reelection for a three-year term. Both are from the village.

School Budget Hearing, Vote Slated Tuesday

Residents of the Saugerties Central School district may attend the public hearing on the proposed school budget for the coming year to be held Tuesday night, 7:30 p. m. at the Saug-erties High School auditorium.

The complete budget, which has been available to all at the Administration Building, will be reviewed item by item, and all questions will be answered by the business manager and the administration.

The estimated budget totals $1,796,048.03, an increase of $134,873.72 over the current year's budget. Approximately an eight per cent increase. It will result in an increase in school taxes of from $4 to $5 a thousand in assessed valuation.

The major increase is shown under instructional services, which includes salary increases for teachers and salaries for additional teachers hired for the coming year. The additional teachers are needed primarily because of the split sessions due to the overcrowded conditions in the system's schools.

Last September there were 2776 students enrolled as compared to 1683 five years ago; 124 teachers as compared to 84 in 1956.

The assessed valuation also has increased by nearly three million dollars in the past five years in the district with the taxes raised locally totaling $644,496.23 as compared to $308,996.63 in 1956. State aid received by the school district totals $995,459.39 as compared to $305,246.70 in 1956.

Assessed valuations on new property have increased during the past year to add $28,000 in revenue expected, as well as an increase in state aid totaling $103,000.

At the conclusion of the budget review, all residents over 21, who own property, rent a home or have children in school may vote on the budget.

Prospective Bride Honored at Shower

A surprise bridal shower was given for Miss Donna Lee Sperl recently at the VFW Hall, Saug-erties, by Miss Margaret Schoenbacher and Miss Erika Laumer, who will be her attendants when she marries James Whitehead next Sunday at St. Mary's Church.

The hail was appropriately decorated for the occasion and the gifts were arranged in a large wishing well, under a centerpiece of an upturned umbrella.

Attending were the bride-to-be's mother, Mrs. Arthur Sperl, the bride groom-to-be's mother, Mrs. Millard Whitehead, and Miss Sperl's grandmother, Mrs.
Mary Wood. Also the Mmes.
Frank Stone, Robert Schoen-bacher, James Acursio, Albert Miller, Donald Campbell, Lucie Buytkins, Thomas Dengler, Robert Sperl, Albert Sperl, William Sperl, Rodney Whitehead, George Wood, Kenneth Hallion, John Wood, Alice Buytkins, Edward Sweeney, Gilbert Ricks, Joan Cooper, Joan Cashdollar, Helen Assian, Kay Dixon. Also the Misses Nancy Stone, Carolyn Halpert, Ann Buytkins, Diane Wood, Dorothy Wood,
Ann Marie Sperl, Velma Lewis, Barbara Brooks and Jill Lezette.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were the Mmes. Agnes Gardner, Gertrude Armstrong, Jean Haun, Joseph Laumer, Millie Wolven, Anna Sperl, William Wood and Miss Elise Rudolph.

Meetings Scheduled

A special meeting of the Saug-erties Village Board of Trustees will be held tonight at 9 p. m. for a decision on the rezoning of property at 34 West Bridge Street from U-1 residential to U-3 commercial.

Tuesday is Grievance Day at Saugerties Town Hall, when residents in the township may meet with the assessors to discuss property valuations.

Files Injunction In Federal Court To Stop Arrests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A suit to prevent police from arresting "Freedom Riders" and other Negroes seeking to use public facilities in Mississippi headed for a federal court test at Jackson today as the number of riders arrested soared to 227.

A three-judge federal court planned to hear the injunction request filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The suit attacked what it called unconstitutional state laws requiring segregated railroad cars, buses, rest rooms and waiting rooms and the posting of segregation signs at terminals.

Such laws, the suit contended, subject Negroes to "daily public inconvenience, harassment, and embarrassment" and violate rights secured "by the due process clause of the 14th amendment to the U.S. Constitution."

Nine riders from New Orleans and eight from Montgomery, Ala., were arrested Sunday when they tried unsuccessfully to desegregate terminal waiting rooms.

Axis Sally Free, Wants to Teach Music in Convent

ALDERSON, W. Va. (AP) —

Axis Sally obtains her freedom today, a graying wisp of the trim, silver-blond woman she was when she entered the federal reformatory 12 years ago.

Sally, now 60 and whose real name is Mildred Gillars, was paroled from a 10 to 30 year sentence for treason—a sentence handed her for propaganda broadcasts she made from Germany during World War II.

At her trial in Washington D.C. in 1949 she blamed love for her troubles. Frustration played a part, too.

Born in Maine on Thanksgiving Day, 1900, she grew up dreaming of acclaim on the Broadway stage.
She went to New York, took a Greenwich Village apartment and worked at her career.

But success never came, and she went abroad, North Africa, Italy, France, Hungary, then Germany.
This was just before Hitler's troops started their march down what was to be a road to destruction.

It was in Dresden, Germany, that she met an officer in the German foreign service who had once been a teacher at Hunter College in New York City. She fell in love, she said.

Miss Gillars testified at her trial that the man—the late Max Otto Koischwitz — convinced her she should make the broadcasts.

MILDRED E. GILLARS

She claimed he wrote and directed the scripts that she read over the radio.

Prison officials say Axis Sally now wants to teach music in a convent.

Park Association Opposes Plan on Wilderness Areas

INDIAN LAKE, N.Y. (AP) —

The Adirondack Park Association opposes a plan to set up 12 wilderness areas totaling 823,000 acres, within the State Forest Preserve in the Adirondacks.

The directors of the association, composed of businessmen and public officials in the Adirondack area, voted 20-1 to fight a bill introduced in the 1961 Legislature
by Assemblyman R. Watson Pomeroy, R-Wassaic.

Action was deferred on the measure to permit further study.
Hearings are scheduled in August and September.

The association said Saturday the bill would restrict public use of land more severely than the existing "forever wild" clause in the state constitution.

The land involved appears "far out of proportion" to the number of people expected to use it, the association said, and the bill would give too much power to the state Conservation Department.

The directors said they were not opposed to the principle of setting aside wilderness areas but were against piecemeal planning.
They called for a reappraisal of all forest-preserve land as a basis for an overall, long-range plan for the preserve.

Put Them Away

Time was when household cleaners came in such ugly bottles and smelled so awful they were kept out of sight. Now many of them are all dolled up, pretty to look at, pleasant to smell. So they're out on display in the kitchen, a danger to inquisitive young children.

Though practically every room in the house has its hazards for youngsters, the kitchen is beginning to take the lead. Detergents, bleaches, waxes, insecticides, — children have been known to drink them all. Most of the youngsters who swallow the poisonous stuff are three years old or younger, but the four and five year olds get their share too.

Best of all is to keep all household preparations out of children's reach. If the young ones get to the stuff anyway, make for the nearest doctor or hospital emergency room.

You can try to induce vomiting yourself, but this should never be done if the child has drunk kerosene or anything corrosive. Since you can't always tell what's in whatever the child drank, you'd better let the doctor or hospital take care of it. Make a note of the brand name or, better yet, take the container with you.

No matter how pretty the container or how pleasant the contents smell, a household bleach or cleanser can still be highly poisonous. Don't leave it around.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Translating business recovery into terms of larger profits is proving tough for many companies. And the stock market is paying increasing attention to their struggles.

Early reports on earnings in the first half of the year show 1961 net income still trailing 1960 at about the same rate as in the disappointing first quarter before the recession corner had been turned officially.

Trends Befog Outlook

Many companies hope for a better second half, based on expectations of larger sales. But a goodly proportion concede that production costs continue to rise. Stiff competition is weakening prices in some industries. And both trends befog the profit outlook.

Even the banks have now joined the parade of profit falterers, after generally showing rising earnings right through the recession. Most of the nation's largest banks report a drop in earnings in the first half, compared with a year ago. They blame a dip in interest yields on loans and other investments as well as rising operating costs.

The nation's railroads have been among the hardest hit by the recession. Its effects still plague the eastern lines particularly. They serve the large industrial areas where increasing production is just starting to mean more freight movement. Some lines have operated in the red until recently.

The Association of American Railroads estimates that the Class I roads (those with operating revenues of $3 million or more a year) had combined net income of $17 million in the first five months of the year, compared with $195 million in the like 1960 period. A slightly better June should lessen the gap for the full six months.

Margins Interesting

Nonfinancial corporations heard from so far are mostly those with fiscal years closing earlier than the calendar year. Their first half results thus are short one or more months of the general recovery period. But their tightened profit margins are nonetheless interesting to their stockholders and to the U. S. Treasury, which will see in declining profits a portent of loss of receipts from corporate income taxes.

The first 112 nonfinancial companies to report for their six months show 61 with earnings trailing the like 1960 period, and

Combined the 112 cleared $243,560,000 in this six months period, compared with $285,016,000 a year ago, for a decline of 14.5 per cent.

Some industries are touched by the recovery less than others. But as usual, individual companies within industries go their separate ways.

It's a thoroughly scrambled list, with almos' as many reasons for the variations as there are companies.

But the totals lean to the downside and are still waiting for the general business recovery to beef up the profit margins.

The Church of England cathedral in Liverpool has been under construction for 57 years. It may not be finished until the 1980's.

Sweet-Finch Nuptial Performed on July 2

Mrs. Carrie Finch of Roxbury and George A. Sweet of Lanesville were wed Sunday, July 2, 1:30 p. m. at Clivesville Baptist Church. The Rev. Richard Tait officiated at the ceremony.

Mrs. Richard Finch of Fleischmanns was pianist. The church was decorated with baskets of flowers.

The bride wore a dress of lavender sheer nylon chiffon over a muted print with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Irving Krom of Phoenixia.

Following the ceremony a reception for 50 guests was held at the Colonial Inn, Pine Hill.

Guests were present from Kelly Corners, Halcottsville, Margaretville, Stamford, Allen, Prattsville, Chichester, Fleischmanns, Phoenixia, and Lanesville.

The bride is a cook at the Kirk Side Home, Roxbury. Mr. Sweet is self employed. They will reside in Roxbury.

Silk Association Advocates Shimmer, Glitter Through Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Sparkle for breakfast—twinkle for lunch—glitter for dinner—and shimmer to sleep in.

That's the fashion fare the International Silk Association served here Sunday night at the dinner which opened fashion press week activities sponsored by the New York Couture Group.

More than 200 of the nation's fashion editors scribbled furiously as they sampled from a smorgasbord of costumes in silk.

Many were by couturiers Scassi, Sarmi, Vera Maxwell and Norman Norell, of New York, as well as Californians Werle, Irene and Gustave Tassel — designers who do not ordinarily preview their collections during the couture group members' semi-annual press week.

Nevertheless the costumes by any designer's name were much the same in terms of elegance, with emphasis placed on the fabric rather than the dress silhouette.

Most of the dresses were decorated as if they were expensive Yule cards. For example, a splash of glitter garnished the neckline of a floaty pink cloud of a housecoat designed by Christian Dior to go with breakfast toast and coffee.

And Sarmi, Scassi and Esteves generously sprinkled silvery snow flakes on candy colored chiffon, satin and georgette costumes for tea-time wear. For evening everyone went all out for sequins, beads and crystals.

Swanson-Deyo Betrothal Told

MODENA — Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Deborah Ann Deyo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. F. Deyo, to F. Robert Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Swanson of Gardiner.

Meyers-Caggianelli Nuptials Are Told; Bride Chooses White Organza, Lace Gown

MRS. THEODORE CAGGIANELLI

Miss Barbara Jane Meyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Meyers of Port Ewen, wed Theodore Caggianelli, of Hudson, son of Antonio Caggianelli of West Palm Beach, Fla., and the late Mrs. Maria Caggianelli, on Sunday, July 9, at Presentation Church in Port Ewen.

Officiating at the 1 p. m. ceremony was the Rev. James Kelley, CSSR. Organist was Mrs. Robert Corcoran and Miss Eileen Reis, soloist, sang Mother Beloved and Ave Maria.

White gladioli decorated the church for the occasion. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose to wear a gown of white organza in modified princess fashion styled with a molded bodice, shirred abbreviated sleeves and a circlet neckline outlined with Alencon lace motifs. The full skirt terminated in a circular train and she wore a circlet of orange blossoms to which was attached a French illusion veil. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book with streamers of baby's breath.

Mrs. John Caggianelli of Hudson, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, served as the matron of honor. She wore a gown of lilac silk chiffon fashioned with a softly draped bodice, shaped midriff and a full ballerina skirt encircled with a matching satin band of ribbon at the hemline. She also wore a pouf type headpiece with a bouffant veil. She carried pink and white carnations on an orchid fan.

Bridesmaids were Miss Edwina Schultz of New Salem, and Miss Rosemarie Ceccoli of Rhinebeck, the bridegroom's niece. Their bonbon pink gowns were styled identically to that worn by the honor attendant. They carried orchids and white carnations on pink fans.

John Caggianelli of Hudson served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Tom Meyers, brother of the bride, Port Ewen, and Robert Holt of Hudson.

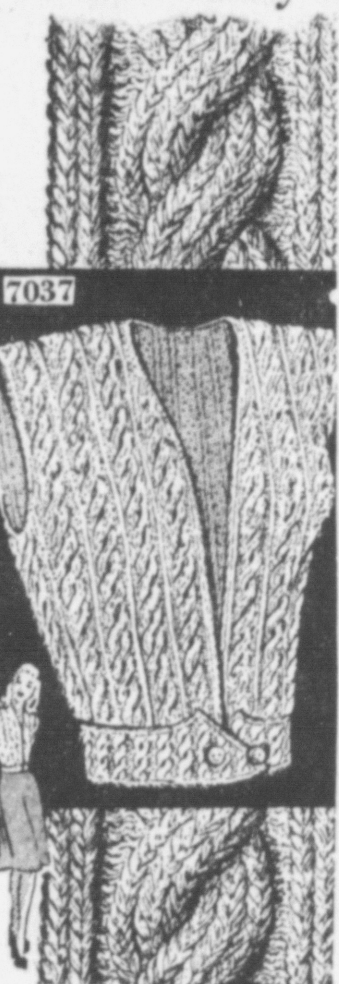

A reception was given at the Capri in Port Ewen after the church ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed as a secretary by IBM in Kingston. Her husband, an alumnus of Hudson High School, served with the U. S. Navy. He is also employed by IBM in Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a pale green dress with white jacket and white accessories and a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Caggianelli will reside in Saugerties when they return.

NO CAR OF THEIR OWN

Q: My husband and I were invited to a twenty-fifth wedding anniversary party in the suburbs. As we are without a car at the present time, we took the train. When we arrived, two of the guests who live near us had just driven up to the hostess's house. When we told them we had come out on the train, they said, "Why didn't you call and ask to drive out with us?" I replied that they knew we had no car and it was up to them to invite us to go with them. She said they had no way of knowing what arrangements we made for getting to the party and it was up to me to telephone her. I disagree with her entirely. When we had our car I always did the inviting. Please tell me who is right?

A: You are right, but you should not have answered that it was "up to them" to invite you to drive with them, as though you resented their not having done so.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Invitations

Q: My parents will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary shortly, and we, their children, are going to give a reception for them. We would like to know if the invitations may be printed in gold ink. I think gold ink would be very appropriate on this occasion but my sister thinks it would be in bad taste and the conventional black ink should be used. Will you please give us your opinion?

A: For a golden wedding anniversary, gold lettering would be entirely correct.

A Lady's Purse and Gloves

Q: When dining in a restaurant, where does a lady put her purse and gloves?

A: In her lap. If her purse is very small and ornamental and there is plenty of room on the table, she might put it at the side of her plate or above it, and keep her gloves in her lap. If her bag is very large she puts it on the floor beside her chair.

POLLY'S QUIZ

By POLLY CRAMER

Some Fabric Mats Add Color, but Test First

BY POLLY CRAMER

A friend of mine thought that her living room needed more color. She wanted to introduce it in the form of colored fabric mats around black-and-white etchings in black frames. She was a bit doubtful and hesitated to spend the money without being reasonably sure.

I suggested that she buy a package of colored art paper. She could then cut mats to the size required, clear tape them between the pictures and frames (on outside of the glass), rehang and live with them for awhile. It would soon be obvious whether the color chosen was right or wrong.

Whenever you're in doubt as to the introduction of color into an already decorated room, improve some way to get a preview of the effect it is going to have on the room and things already in it.

Dear Polly: We have just bought a new house so we cannot buy new furniture. My living room looks just plain dead. Walls are white, carpet is black-and-white, white draperies, black-and-gray three piece couch plus one black chair and a gray chair. What can I do to liven it up?—Mrs. L. R.

Dear Mrs. L. R.: You will have to rely on accessories for the much needed color. Have lots of books and magazines in gay covers, a wooden bowl of apples on the coffee table, a brass planter loaded with blooming red geraniums. Add a few bright pillows to the sofa.

Dear Polly: I want to re-cover my red couch and matching chair. Walls of my living room are bone white. Carpet is black, white and gray tweed. Drapes are white with a modern design of gold, gray, red and black. Have two reed saucer chairs. Should I color these or leave them in the natural reed?—Mrs. E. P.

Dear Mrs. E. P.: Your couch could be covered with a gold textured fabric. The chair could be done in a plaid that combines the colors in the curtains. I would paint the reed chairs all black and stick a perky little gold cushion in the back of each of them.

Dear Polly: I want a completely new scheme in the living room of my new home. Walls will be cream white and so will carpeting. One new chair is a very pale beige. My couch will be covered to match walls. Two matching chairs will be American beauty red. What should I use to cover another chair? Want to stay with pink and red tones.—Mrs. J. M.

Dear Mrs. J. M.: Find a lush looking printed fabric for the chair, one with white ground featuring pink and red flowers in an all-over design. Since the chair will take only a small amount of material, go overboard and select something special that will make the room. Then have the fabric quilted.

Dear Reader: A heavy volume of mail doesn't permit Mrs. Cramer to answer her letters and post cards individually. But she will comment in her column on decorating problems of general interest. She cannot undertake to return floor plans or fabric swatches which are enclosed with letters.

Highlights of State Pageant Finals Saturday

FINALIST (MISS NASSAU) PERFORMS—Second runner-up to this year's state queen, Gwen Mead of West Babylon, did an interpretive ballet for which she received an enthusiastic audience response. She is a 1959 graduate of the New York State Agricultural and Technical Institute. She plans to continue her education at Pratt Institute in New York City where she will study advertising art and design. (Freeman photo)

MISS WOODSTOCK WINS TALENT OPENING NIGHT—Marguerite Madeline Clowry of Yonkers, who represented Miss Woodstock in the New York State Pageant, won the talent award Thursday, July 6, opening night. Her sewing abilities received the approval of the judges. She is pictured here with a sheath dress and matching jacket made for the small sum of $15. The outfit also included a full draped overskirt and long coat. Miss Clowry is a senior at State University College of Education at Albany. (Freeman photo)

Eichmann Takes Rest
JERUSALEM (AP) —Shaking from lack of sleep and nervous tension, Adolf Eichmann asked for and got a morning recess today to sleep off the rigors of his long trial. He returned to the witness stand in the afternoon, staring straight ahead with normally impassive demeanor.

Eichmann underwent rigorous cross-examination by Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner during the last court session Friday. This was to have continued this morning but was suspended until the afternoon at Eichmann's request.

QUEEN IN TALENT COMPETITION—Miss New York State of 1962 is pictured doing a scene from Jean Anouilh's "The Lark" for the talent portion of the Pageant. She very ably portrayed the doomed Joan of Arc. Representing Southern Erie, Miss Kathryn Moden is blonde with hazel colored eyes and stands five feet, six and a half inches. Her measurements are 36, 24, 36. In addition to her dramatic ability, she also plays the cello. Daughter of Ralph J. Moden of Buffalo, she is a member of Alpha Clonion Social Sorority and Alpha Psi Omega Honor Society. (Freeman photo)

MISS SAUGERTIES IN PARADE OF CITIES—Susan Jane Schirmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Schirmer of 142 Washington Avenue, Saugerties, represented that area in this year's keen competition. A pianist, Miss Schirmer played Chopin's "Revolutionary Etude" for the Pageant talent competition. In September she will join the freshman class at Florida Southern College and major in physical education. (Freeman photo)

QUEEN WINS SWIMSUIT AWARD—Very early in the Pageant competition, Miss Southern Erie, now Miss New York State of 1962, proved to be a likely choice for top honors. She won the swimsuit award opening night. This was her second try for the crown. Last year she represented Genesee Valley. In the traditional quiz of finalists, Miss New York State said an ideal day would include sightseeing in New York City. (Freeman photo)

ASK THE DESIGNER

by gaile dugas

BY GAILE DUGAS

Dear Gaile: This past spring I bought what I thought was a beautiful pink suit. It's beautiful no more. After one dry cleaning, it pulled at the seams. It also wrinkles easily, seems to have lost its shape and is raveling inside. It did have smart lines and was very becoming. But I simply can't afford such mistakes. I took the suit back to the dry cleaners and they said that it was not their fault. Then whose fault is it?—M. F. G.

Dear M. F. G.: This sort of thing happens to every one of us at some time but that doesn't make you feel any better, I'm sure. I took your problem to Alvin Handmacher, who has been making beautiful suits for years. This is what he says:

"When you shop for a suit, look for quality as well as style. For instance, check for extra-wide seams in both jacket and skirt, carefully stitched for clean line and accurate fit. Pleats should be generous, cuffs and hems deep.

"Another hallmark of fine suits is the hand sewing of buttons and shoulder pads. When you try the suit on, check to see how the jacket fits when every button is buttoned. Shoulders should be easy but not loose. Up and down wrinkles means too loose and wrinkles across the back mean too tight.

"Walk about the fitting room. And very important, sit down. Here, a triple mirror is a real boon in exposing an ungraceful side or rear view. Remember, the secret of a long and happy life in a suit lies in a neat and uncluttered look."

Dear Gaile: It seems to me that I am always reading articles that say you should "plan" your wardrobe. But how can you, on a weekly pay check? I am a working wife. We have three children. Much of my pay check goes for essentials each week. What's left (sometimes) buys clothes for me. So how can I plan when things are like this? Please help me.—Mrs. R. J.

Dear Mrs. R. J.: This is an often heard complaint. I talked the matter over with designer Abe Schrader, who said:

"There are very few women in America who are fortunate enough to have enough money to plan their wardrobes in depth, in advance. Most Americans live on a budget. It is the American way of life. But even though funds are not adequate to provide for a well-organized seasonal wardrobe, there is a way to be well-dressed.

"First of all, remember that each item you buy should be well thought out and planned. Select a theme for your wardrobe; decide what type of person you are—tailored, soft and feminine or a bit of both.

"Select a color and plan your wardrobe around it. For example, navy blue, or taupe or gray. Then buy one or two really good outfits each season. Alternate the winter wardrobe; one year buy an excellent coat; the next year, an excellent costume or suit.

"Remember, the way to be well-dressed is not to have closets bursting with clothes but, rather, to have a few clothes that are well constructed, flattering and worthwhile. Don't envy Jacqueline Kennedy an unlimited number of clothes; she envies your anonymity."

Please send your fashion problems to Gaile Dugas in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column. (All rights reserved, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

TAXES AND DIVIDENDS

Big governmental spending and large federal deficits are of deep concern to thousands of investors. The economic atmosphere of the present is a quandary to a great many capitalists. "How," they ask, "can corporations be prosperous with taxes as high as they are and with cost levels squeezing profit margins?"

Investment perspective has never been more needed than now. The United States Government's fiscal integrity is very closely allied to corporate prosperity. If hundreds of America's business and financial enterprises do not make money, Uncle Sam will fall very short in raising enough tax money to pay his bills.

Six leading corporations, for example, paid $3,620,000,000 in taxes in 1960. That is an average of over 600 million dollars for each of the enterprises—American Telephone and Telegraph, General Motors, Morgan Guaranty Trust of New York, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Sears-Roebuck, and United States Steel. Telephone paid the biggest tax bill—$1,800,000,000.

America must be prosperous. Well, what if she isn't? Then, the federal budget will be further out of balance and it will be necessary to engage in more deficit financing.

When profit margins decline, the volume of taxes shrinks. The way things are going now in the world, Uncle Sam will shortly be spending 90 billion dollars a year just to keep everything going.

If the budget is to be balanced, national income will have to grow and tax collections increase. Steadily improving living standards coupled with population growth assure higher national income. And corporations operating in the center of the economy will share this growth.

Taxes and dividends are twin sisters. Both come from the same source—profits. The Treasury of the United States and millions of stockholders have a common interest—the prosperity of our free enterprise system.

Deficit financing undermines the integrity of the dollar in that it creates billions of inflationary dollars. And when that happens, the public urge is to buy the common stocks, helping somewhat to neutralize a deteriorating currency.

It is for this reason that today any investor concerned about the future quality of his money should buy the kind of high-quality stocks mentioned earlier in this article.

Prosperous corporations are the economic bulwark of America. Before me is a list of 30 corporations which, in 1960, paid 15 billion in taxes and several more billion in dividends. Tax payments were twice as large as dividend declarations.

Yet all of these enterprises are strong and healthy. Their indispensable economic base (catering to the needs and desires of America's growing population) and their competent management enable them to pay taxes and dividends without weakening their basic structures. If today an investor with unemployed funds wishes to buy a value for income, growth and inflation protection, he should choose stocks of corporations which have little difficulty in paying taxes and dividends.

THE FORUM

Question: I have just inherited $10,000. What stocks should I buy? A. W. H.

Answer: The six mentioned in this article.

Dairy Tour

The 34th annual dairy judging tour, sponsored by the State University of New York Agricultural and Technical Institute, will take place on July 27 and 28. Judging teams representing approximately 80 high school agricultural departments will participate in this year's competition.

The farms to be visited on the tour are as follows: Hansena Farm of South Valley, owned by Lawrence Hansen and Son; River Valley Farm of Milford owned by Mrs. Gertrude Low and Stephen Low; Iroquois Farm of Cooperstown, owned by F. Ambrose Clark; Morningside Farm of Delhi, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McDowell; and the Delhi Tech Farm at Delhi.

LONDON (AP) — Van Johnson is working harder than he ever has in his life—and he's having a ball.

How he got to this point is quite a story. It takes him from the feudal fastness of MGM through the rocky shoals of free-lancing and to the tax-free heights of Switzerland.

Most Rewarding Work

Van is smack in the middle of a year's contract to play trombone salesman Harold Hill in the London production of "Music Man." "It is the most rewarding work I've ever known," he said in his London flat. "That famous British reserve doesn't apply to theater audiences. They cheer and yell, 'Go it, Van!' I love it. You don't get applause when the director says, 'Cut.'"

"But it's also the toughest role imaginable. It's as though Meredith Willson thought, 'Now how can I write a part that will tax a leading man to the extreme.'"

Last summer he played "Damn Yankees" at $7,500 a week in tent theaters. That gave him the nerve to accept "Music Man" here.

"I was scared before that," he remarked. "I had 14 years at MGM. They were great years, but they didn't equip me for facing the outer world. The studios wrap you in cotton batting."

Unwrapped and set adrift, Van fared well for a while, then met with diminishing results. During one period, he tried living in Switzerland to protect his income from the ravages of taxes.

"At first it seemed wonderful," he said. "The scenery was fabulous. We'd have dinner one night with Deborah Kerr and Peter Viertel, then with Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer. I played tennis every day with Charlie Chaplin. I sent smoke signals from Alp to Alp with Paulette Goddard."

Then the life began to pall. The first to crack was Van's wife Evie. "I can't stand it any more," she said, leaving him.

"I stayed on," Van said. "But I got to thinking. What good was the million dollars in the unmarked safety-deposit drawer if I would end up an old actor with nothing to do but play tennis with Charlie Chaplin and send smoke signals to Paulette Goddard?"

"The climax came when the scenery started getting closer and closer. One morning I woke up and the mountains were at the foot of my bed. That did it. I called Evie in New York and told her I wanted to talk things over. I took the first plane out of Zurich."

He patched up his problem with Evie and she is here cooking for him.

Gina Says She Meant No Snub To Khrushchev

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — Gina Lollobrigida says she meant no snub by walking out on Premier Khrushchev at the opening of the Moscow Film Festival. She just wanted to take a bath.

But the Soviet leader and other Communist bigwigs stared at the Italian film star stalked out of Moscow's Lenin Stadium Sunday night just when the show was warming up.

Gina, who had been rushed to the stadium direct from the airport, said the whole thing apparently was a misunderstanding. "I wasn't angry, just upset," she told reporters later in her hotel room (after taking a bath). "I was very sure they would understand when I left."

As for Khrushchev, Gina said:

"I had the pleasure to see Khrushchev. This is something exciting, even from far away."

Though one of the top foreign attractions here for the festival, Gina had only a third-row seat in the audience.

Gina looked lovely—but hardly dressed like glamorous actresses usually do for gala public appearances. She wore a tall blue straw hat and two-piece blue traveling suit.

In her own words, "I looked like a gypsy."

American film producer William Perleberg, who sat nearby, said she was "sore as hell" about not being given a chance to take a bath, make up or change her clothes before being taken to the festival.

Braves Rout Spring Valley, 16-6, For Ninth NY-NJ Win

Boice Unloads Towering Homer For the Winners

The Kingston Braves have been experiencing some recent difficulties with New York-New Jersey League teams, but the Spring Valley Bengals aren't on the list of the recalcitrants.

Racking up 14 hits and aided and abetted by 8 walks and eight errors, the Braves mauled the 1960 champions, 16 to 6, before a small, but appreciative audience Saturday night at Dietz Stadium.

Highlighting the tumultuous proceedings which nailed down the Braves' ninth win in 12 NY-NJ starts was a tremendous home run by Chick Boice, the Kingston first baseman. The win was the second straight for the Braves over the Bengals who were whipped 9-4 on the 4th of July.

Boice's home run led off the seventh inning and was a majestic shot that soared deep into the right field center against the embankment that rings the playing area. It was one of the longest blasts seen at Dietz Stadium in some time and may have earned the former Kingston High School star a starting berth with the Braves. The homer ended a hitting drought for Boice. In the eighth inning he chased the left fielder back to the bank for another long drive.

The scheduled duel between Bob Maines of Kingston and Bob Willis of Spring Valley failed to materialize when Maines was unable to get leave from the New London naval base.

Willis showed and he just didn't have it. He was raked for 10 hits and 11 runs in four innings, five of them unearned. An eight-run barrage in the third, with Spring Valley leading 4-2, killed all hopes for a tight contest.

Hitting Pitcher
Kingston's starting pitcher, Leverett Spencer, who gave up three hits and five runs in five innings and gave way to John Risley, who was maced for seven hits and two runs in the next four frames.

Spencer proved to be something of a hitter with three singles and a couple of RBIs. Hal Lewis also stroked three singles and Doug Holmquist knocked in three runs with two singles. Shortstop Frank McGarvey was Spring Valley's leading stick man with a single, double and triple.

The contest was a typical Kingston-Spring Valley clash with considerable umpire baiting and grousing by Spring Valley, but their biggest fault was their own ineptness, which included eight juicy errors. Willis wasn't sharp but he deserved a better fate in the early going.

The Braves will not be home again until Wednesday, July 19, when the Poughkeepsie Hoosiers invade the stadium. They are scheduled to play Kinderhook next Saturday at 2:30 p. m. and at Spring Valley again on Sunday.

Lopez Hurls, Bats For Williamsport

Marcelino Lopez had quite a day for himself Sunday in the Eastern League.

Lopez pitched a five-hitter and belted two homers good for three runs in leading Williamsport to a 4-1 victory over Lancaster. It was his sixth victory against four defeats and enabled the Grays to regain second place.

Williamsport also picked up a half game on league-leading Springfield which split a doubleheader with Johnstown, dropping the opener 3-2 but taking the nightcap 3-0. The Grays now trail by only five games.

Binghamton, after dropping an 11-6 doubleheader opener to Reading, came back to take the second game 3-2. But the split dropped the Trips into third place, 900 percentage points behind the Grays.

Invitational Wednesday for Wiltwyck Women

Wiltwyck Country Club women expect a heavy entry for the annual Invitational tournament Wednesday. Mrs. Robert H. Daley, golf chairman, reports an excellent response from member clubs of the Northeastern Women's Golf Association and from the Hudson River Women's Golf Association.

The course is reported in excellent condition for the tournament. The committee has set a 10:30 a. m. deadline for teeing off. Players can use either, the first or tenth tees to tee off.

Prizes will be awarded for gross and net scores in three divisions—A, B, C—and for fewest putts in each classification. Several additional awards will be awarded throughout the day's activities. Players are requested to bring their attested handicaps.

A buffet luncheon with both hot and cold dishes will be served from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. A cocktail hour will precede the luncheon.

Wiltwyck social members are especially invited to attend this big day of golf and social activity. Reservations may be made by calling the club, but it is not necessary as there will be ample accommodations.

Mrs. Robert H. Daley is golf chairman at Wiltwyck, with Mrs. Richard Davenport, tournament chairman, Mrs. Edward V. Strohahl, general chairman of the women's division and her committee, will be hostesses for the day.

Lary Holds Tigers in 1st Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ace right-hander Frank Lary pitched a three-hit shutout in the opener and the Detroit Tigers swept a doubleheader from the Los Angeles Angels 1-0 and 6-3 Sunday, regaining the American League lead by one percentage point over New York.

The Yankees split with Boston, winning the first game 3-0 behind the five-hit pitching of Roland Sheldon before losing 9-6.

Baltimore gained control of third place, seven games behind, by whipping Kansas City 8-0 on Steve Barber's four-hitter. Cleveland dropped to fourth when the Chicago White Sox thumped the Indians twice, 7-5 and 9-8. Minnesota beat the Senators 7-1.

Lary (13-4) walked just two and struck out 10. The Tigers handed Eli Grba (5-9) his fifth loss in a row with a second-inning run when Norm Cash walked, Steve Boros was hit by a pitch and Mike Roark singled. Boros, felled by a pitch that struck his helmet, spent Sunday night under observation in a hospital.

Detroit wrapped up the nightcap on a two-run homer by Billy Bruton in the seventh inning. Jim Bunning (9-6) won it with ninth inning relief help. Ryne Duren (5-9) was the loser.

Sheldon Effective
Sheldon, (6-2) allowed Boston nothing but singles. He walked no one and struck out seven for his sixth straight victory and second shutout in a row. Elston Howard doubled home the first run off loser Bill Monbouquette (8-7), who also gave up Roger Maris' 33rd home run.

The Red Sox broke loose for 13 hits in the nightcap. Two unearned runs in the first inning tagged the loss on Ralph Terry (3-1). Rookie Don Schwall (7-2) was the winner, with relief help from Arnie Earley.

Barber (10-6) collected his fourth shutout of the season—top in the majors—for the Orioles. The Birds beat Bob Shaw (5-8) in the first inning when Jackie Brandt's triple followed a double by Brooks Robinson.

A pinch-hit bases-loaded homer by Sherm Lollar with two out in the ninth won the first game for the White Sox and beat reliever Frank Funk (9-7). Willie Kirkland hit three home runs for the Hudson River women's golf association, but J. C. Martin's two-run homer in the seventh inning provided Chicago's edge in the nightcap as Cal McLish (5-8) defeated Jim Perry (7-7). Ray Herbert (7-8) was the first game winner.

Earl Battey belted two home runs, and Ted Lepcio one as the Twins won their first at Griffith Stadium in six tries. Camilo Pascual (7-11) was the winner, Tom Cheney (1-1) lost it.

Robinson Knocks Out Dodgers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson was knocked down twice and hit on the arm by Los Angeles right-hander Don Drysdale, but clubbed a pair of homers, a double and a single for seven runs batted in as the Cincinnati Reds whipped the second-place Dodgers 14-3 Sunday and regained a five-game bulge in the National League race.

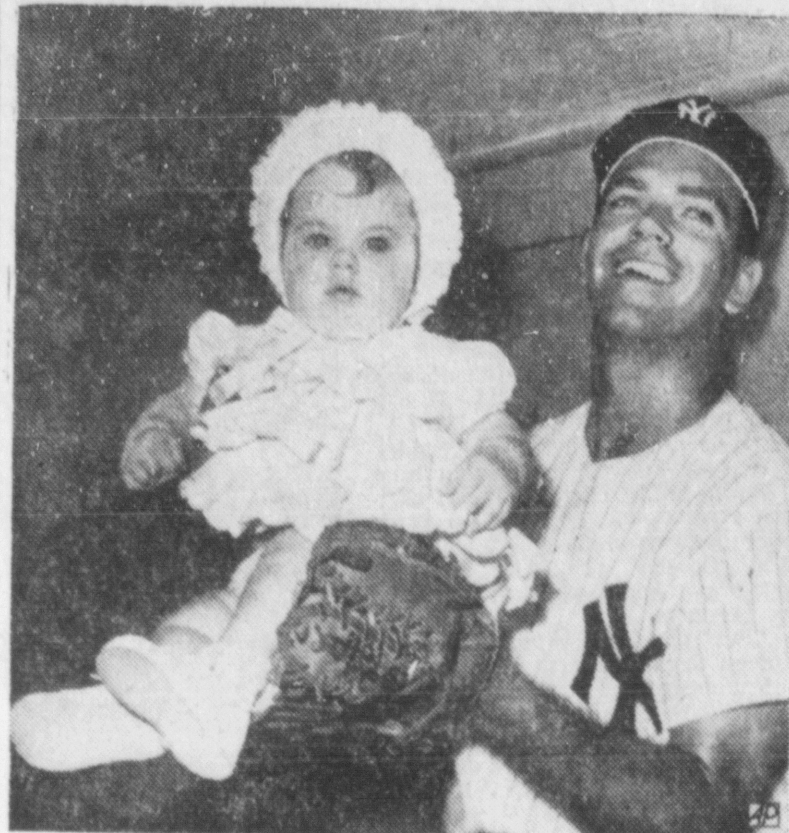

Third place Pittsburgh made it three straight over Milwaukee, by beating the Braves 5-3. San Francisco split a pair with St. Louis, the Giants losing 6-4 in the opener, before beating the Cards 6-1. The Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 9-8 and 8-5.

Homers in First
Robinson hit the first of his homers against the Dodgers in the first inning off loser Roger Craig. His run-in with Drysdale came in the sixth, and he then tagged Dick Farrell for his second homer, in the eighth inning.

Gene Freese also homered while right-hander Joey Jay (12-4) checked the Dodgers on five hits, two of them home runs by John Roseboro and Charlie Neal. A pair of homers by Walt Moryn drove in the Pirates' first three runs against Lew Burdette (9-6). Al McBean (2-0) was the winner in relief.

The Cards wiped out a 3-1 lead by the Giants and won the opener or a two-run homer in the eighth by Ken Boyer. But the Giants bounced back behind the four-hit pitching of Jack Sanford (4-5) and reliever Sam Jones in the nightcap. Lindy McDaniel (5-3) won the opener and Juan Marichal (6-7) lost it, both in relief.

The Cubs overcame seven errors with 28 hits in their sweep over the last place Phils. Ed Boesch, hit two home runs and Al Heist one backing Glen Hobbie (6-9) in the opener and reliever Dick Ellsworth (4-6) in the second game. Art Mahaffey (7-10) and Chris Short (2-6) were the losers.

All-Star Game

Eddie Mathews to See Action But American Loop Is Favored

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The National League was cheered today by the news that Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's hard hitting third baseman, would be available for duty against the American League in Tuesday's 30th All-Star game, second in California and first in San Francisco.

It was feared that Mathews, the senior circuit's premier southpaw slugger, might be forced to pass up the spectacle because of a knee injury sustained in a collision with Los Angeles' Daryl Spencer last week. The big Californian returned to the Braves' lineup Sunday and assured NL Manager Danny Murtaugh he would be ready to play.

A capacity crowd of more than 42,000 was expected to attend the first of this year's two All-Star games, which will be televised nationally. The second game will be played July 31 in Boston.

Will See Mantle, Maris
San Francisco fans were awaiting their first look at the American League sluggers, especially Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris.

Little LEAGUERS

Steve VanDyke Has No-Hitter

Steve VanDyke, 10-year-old speedball and control ace of the Tigers, pitched his second no-hitter of the season as his mates walloped the Braves, 7-0, in a National Little League game on Saturday.

While VanDyke was throwing goose eggs at the Braves, the winners opened with two run bursts in the first pair of innings and they had a breeze from there. This marked the third no-hitter of the season for a Tiger hurler. The other was by Jim Schmidt.

Warren Kelder, Chip Grover and Tony Darwak slammed doubles to pace the attack.

Bit of a Rhubarb

Rebel Harris Captures Sixth Feature Victory at Speedway

If they're ever going to beat D. D. (Rebel) Harris in a feature race at Ontario Speedway Park, they will have to take drastic measure, like closing the track for the remainder of the season.

It took a bewildering variety of circumstances to contribute to yesterday's feature win for the Poughkeepsie speedster. But at the finish of the curtailed feature (23 laps) there he was, winner for the sixth time this season and fourth week in a row.

Sunday's triumph was hardly the most popular for the Rebel man.

A re-start after two cars cracked up on the 17th lap gave Harris a fresh lease on life after he had trailed Clyde (Slide) Smith of Kingston and Jimmy Markle of Stone Ridge for 16 laps.

Smith, bidding for his first Ontario victory, bolted from a pack of 30 cars in the feature and soon settled down to a quarter lap lead over Markle and Harris.

Given a fresh chance, Harris didn't blow it. He passed Smith and Markle on the 20th lap and shot ahead of Markle on the inside turn of the 22nd lap, as Smith fell back out of contention.

Don Beesmer of Olive Bridge spun out on the fourth turn, slowing down the pace on the 23rd lap and starter Jimmy Moffatt hauled the yellow flag, then the red and finally halted the race.

On the basis of Moffatt's ruling, Harris was awarded first place over Markle, with Smith, the early pace setter settling for third. Trailing the three leaders were Al Ostrander, Joe Lawrence, Walt Schubert, Don Avery, riding a new car; Don Cronk, Tommy Dressell and Maury Waters.

Crowd Disagrees
Many fans in the large crowd disagreed with Moffatt's ruling and Harris' victory was greeted with more boos than cheers.

The controversy over the Harris victory overshadowed a brilliant card of races over superb track conditions, after two weeks in which high winds and dust had raised havoc with the drivers.

Heat winners included Duane Lane of Willow; Maury Waters of Danbury, Conn.; Clyde Smith and Stretch Van Steenburgh of Saugerties.

First Heat—Duane Lane, Bernie Carney, Dean Alexander, Bud Glass, Bob Head, Bob De Lease, Dick Munson, Dan Fortin, Dick Becker, Ronnie Kidd.

Second Heat—Maury Waters, Don Avery, Tom Dressell, Billy Stokes, Don Cronk, Pete Keator, Roger Hornbeck, Bucky Marl, Herbie Gray, Clarence Phillips.

Third Heat—Clyde Smith, Rebel Harris, Ernie Beesmer, Jim Markle, Al Ostrander, Walt Schubert, Joe Lawrence, Ed Somers, Bob Gray, Bill Rothberg.

Consolation—Stretch Van Steenburgh, Bob Gray, Bill Rothberg, Herbie Gray, Clayton Barringer, Clifford Wood, Ken Coddington, Jim Ostrander.

Feature Event—Rebel Harris, Clyde Smith, Al Ostrander, Joe Lawrence, Walt Schubert, Don Avery, Don Cronk, Jimmy Dressell, Maury Waters.

Pender Big Favorite To Top Downes Tuesday

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Win, lose or draw, American Paul Pender figures to make a big hit with the English fans on Tuesday night when he defends his share of the world middleweight title against cockney Terry Downes in London.

The rangy, 30-year-old Yank boxes in the classic English style. His most effective weapon is a snapping left jab that cuts and jolts. After opening up an opponent's defense with the jab, Pender often follows up with a left hook or fast left-right combinations.

Downes, an aggressive club-fighter who learned his mauling ways in the U.S. Marines, is a perfect foil for the talented champion. Pender slashed Terry's nose and eyebrows in scoring a seventh round technical knockout at Boston, last Jan. 14.

Kelso to Miss 100G Handicap

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

In racing, some customers look back sadly to the losers, while others peek ahead hopefully and wonder where the winners are hiding.

This is a brief report on what happened Saturday, and a squint at next Saturday's $100,000 Monmouth Park handicap minus Kelso, and the Brooklyn Handicap a week later at the same dollar value — plus Kelso.

Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster, who cost $80,000 at the Saratoga yearling sales, proved to be one of the top 3-year-olds in the land when he came up in the last stride Saturday to beat a 70-1 outsider, Editorialis, by a neck in the $108,900 Arlington Classic.

The Alberta Ranches' Four-and-Twenty, who also must be considered high in the 3-year-old picture although beaten in the Kentucky Derby by Jack and Katherine Price's Carry Back, romped from wire to wire in the $122,900 Hollywood Derby. He won by 3 1/4 lengths over a longshot, We're Hoping.

As for Kelso, the Bohemia Stable's horse of the year in 1960, he will await the 1 1/4-mile Brooklyn Handicap July 22 at Aqueduct. This seemed to be a logical decision on the part of his owner, Mrs. Richard C. Du Pont, and trainer Carl Hanford.

Kelso has won 10 straight races, including the Metropolitan Mile under 130 pounds and the Suburban Handicap with 133. Both were $100,000 races, and are the first pair of the great but elusive Handicap Triple. In 1953, Whisk Broom II slammed the Met-Sub-Brook triple, and only Tom Fool in 1953 duplicated the feat. The three races go back into the 1880's.

Fulmer's kid brother, Don, 22, meets newcomer Rocky Fumelle 24, of Buffalo, N.Y., in the Saturday night television fight (ABC-TV 9 p.m., EST) at New York's Madison Square Garden. The 10-round marks Fumelle's Garden and national TV debut. He has a 26-1 record. Fulmer's record is 24-4-1.

The national card tonight has several interesting scraps. They include junior welterweight contenders Eddie Perkins, Chicago, vs. Mauro Vazquez, Mexico City, at Tijuana, Mexico; middleweights Henry Hank, Detroit, vs. Joey Giardello, Philadelphia at Detroit, and welterweights Cecil Shorts, Cleveland, vs. Virgil Atkins, former champion from St. Louis.

Tod Herring, undefeated Houston heavyweight, faces veteran Harold Carter of Linden, N.J., in a 10-rounder at Houston Tuesday night. The same night at Spokane, Wash., light heavyweight contenders Von Clay of Philadelphia and Kirk Barrow, of Spokane, meet in a ten.

Geneva Remains In First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Geneva Redlegs apparently feel that the best way to stay in first place is to keep knocking off the second-place club.

They sent the Olean Red Sox reeling Sunday at Geneva by taking both ends of a doubleheader, 5-2 and 6-4, and making it three in a row over the runner-up Sox.

It sent the Redlegs out in front by four games. Olean trailed Geneva by only one game when the series started Saturday night.

In other games Sunday, Batavia downed Wellsville, 12-6, at Wellsville; Auburn took a twin-bill from Jamestown, 5-1 and 3-0, at Jamestown, and Erie won a pair from Elmira, 11-1 and 6-4, at Elmira.

Saturday action included a 5-1 Geneva win over Olean, a 2-0 win by Elmira over Erie, an 11-7 victory by Jamestown over Auburn and Batavia's 6-3 triumph over Wellsville.

Pitching—Frank Lary, Tigers, shut out Los Angeles Angels on three singles, striking out 10 while ending their home run streak at 16 games, in first game of 1-0 and 6-3 sweep that put Detroit back in first place.

Hitting—Frank Robinson, Reds, dusted himself off after being knocked down and hit by pitches and collected seven RBI on two homers, a double and a triple in 1 1/2 romp against second-place Dodgers.

Argo Can Favored At Saratoga Track

SARATOGA SPRINGS—Seeking to snap Argo Can's skein of three victories in a row in Saratoga Raceway's Early Closing Series for Class 24 Trotters, 22 opponents have entered to-night's feature, the $3000 Bethlehem. Thus, the final leg has eleven scheduled to battle in the seventh race and 12 starters seeking victory in the fifth dash of the evening.

Slated to match strides with the speedy Florican gelding which recently posted a 2:05 4/5 mark are Jade, Boozie and Queen Ronald, all of whom have place finishes in the series. In the other division Nancy Springwood comes back off an over-night victory to challenge a field which includes Bud and entries from the Tony Ambo and Aubrey Rodney stables.

Harold Goodsell, who guided Windale Tip to a win last week in driving both ends of the daily double has the Saratoga owned horse going again this evening in the ninth race. In another supporting attraction Frank Jevons takes his steady Colonel Girl, in the money five out of six trips this season, against seven other Class C3 pacers in the eighth race.

Mrs. Forno Half-Way Leader In WCC President's Cup Play

Mrs. Barbara Forno carries a one-stroke lead into the final round of the women's President's Cup competition at Woodstock Country Club Tuesday.

The women's division publicity chairman wrote her own story with a sparkling 4-under-par net 66, with a 93 gross and 27 handicap in the first 18 holes of the 36-hole competition. She posted nines of 47 and 46.

Mrs. Kathleen Elwyn trailed by a stroke, with 90-23-67. Tied for third place, two strokes off the pace, were the club champion, Mrs. A. J. (Wiggle) de Lizio, 73-5-68; and Mrs. Herta Wilheim, 95-27-68. Mrs. de Lizio carded low gross with 36-37-73.

Other leaders included: Mrs. Doris Murray, 98-29-69; Mrs. Louise Fitzsimmons, 94-23-71; Mrs. Willie Salet 110-38-72; Mrs. Hilda Needes, 96-23-73.

Pairings Listed

Pairings and tee times for the second round of play follow:

9 a. m.—Mrs. Joseph Forno, Mrs. Allen Dean Elwyn, Mrs. A. J. de Lizio.

9:10—Mrs. Paul Wilhelm, Mrs. Doris Murray, Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons.

9:20—Mrs. Philip Salet, Mrs. Hilda Needes, Mrs. Kermit Schwarz.

9:40—Mrs. Frederick P. Platt, Mrs. David Fogel, Mrs. Arnold Broggi.

9:50—Mrs. Elmer Ryland, Mrs. Walter Van Wageningen, Mrs. Thomas Dendy, Mrs. Eleanor Van Gogh.

Others who qualified were: Bill Leagans, Cornell University Golf Club; Ed Hughes, Elmira; Stewart Wallace Jr., Ithaca; John Parsons, Seneca Falls and W. (Butch) Berry, Ithaca.

Katrine Club Has Work Date

Members of the Lake Kartine Rod and Gun Club have been called to the club preserve this evening at 6 p. m. to help in roofing the new club pavilion.

Winky Meyers, club president, said he hoped the new pavilion would soon be available for club activities. Date for the annual clambake has been set for Sunday, August 27, and tickets are now available.

The building is 30x60 complete with modern rest rooms, running water and a large recreation and parking area. Refreshments will be available following the work date.

Wells Captures 10 1/2 oz. Starfish

William Wells of 74 West Pierpont Street, caught a 10 1/2 ounce starfish to win the prize for the heaviest fish caught by 13-14-15 year old boys at the first annual Kingston Kiwanis Club fishing derby at the YMCA Day Camp on Saturday. A total of 33 boys participated.

Other winners in the 13-14-15 year old age group were William Wells for the longest fish, a 9 1/4 inch catfish; and Barry Goggin with the most fish, a total of 20.

Winners in the 10-11-12 year age group were Thomas Kelly, a 10 1/4 catfish; Steven Betley, an 8 1/4 inch perch and also the most fish caught.

Carroll Lynch was chairman of the derby. Assisting him were William Edmuth, James Maloney, Irving Eyles, G. Herbert DeKay, Hubert Hoderath, Lou Schafer, Kenneth Lynch and Steve Orozco.

The lean Texan from Dallas shot an 8-under-par 64 on his final round Sunday for a 19-under-par 269 to win the $30,000 St. Paul Open and $4,300.

January started the day four shots behind Buster Cupit, the club pro from Fort Smith, Ark., who was second with 270. Dave Hill of Denver finished third with 272.

January pulled away from the field in the middle holes, where he rapped in four birdies and chipped in for another from the 9th through the 15th.

Most of the younger pros and a few of the more seasoned veterans headed for Winnipeg, Man., after the St. Paul tourney ended. They will play in the Canadian Open this week. January, however, will skip the Canadian and rejoin the tour at Milwaukee, the last tour stop before the National PGA at Chicago.

Refugee Charged With Murder of His Close Friend

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—A Ukrainian refugee has been charged with first degree murder in the slaying of a man police said had been his close friend for many years.

Nykola Potuzkny was charged Sunday with the fatal shooting Saturday night of Demitris Bertsch, 40.

Potuzkny was being held in police headquarters for arraignment. Potuzkny was overpowered by police in the living room of his home after he allegedly shot Bertsch during an argument. Police declined to comment on the cause of the dispute.

The men and their families moved to Rochester about four years ago, police said, after living about 10 years in Brazil. They had previously lived in Germany and the Ukraine, police said.

AT HURLEY CANTATA—Mrs. Stephen Waligurski, composer and director of the Hurley Folk Cantata, chats with Bob Browning at the Sunday afternoon performance by the Hurley Folk Chorus which was dedicated to Browning for his interest in Hurley while a local newscaster. Approximately 150 persons attended the cantata, a musical history of the Hudson Valley, presented in the natural amphitheater off Route 209 in Old Hurley. The performance was narrated by Elizabeth Askue with Maria Slater as pianist. It was part of Hurley Tercentenary celebration marking the 300th anniversary of the historic village. (Freeman photo)

Bob Browning Is Feted at Hurley 300th Observance

Bob Browning, dean of Hudson Valley newscasters, and former resident of Hurley, was honored at Sunday's performance of the Hurley Folk Cantata in the natural amphitheater beside the Hurley Reformed Church in old Hurley.

Mr. Browning was present at the singing of the cantata which was dedicated to him as an expression of appreciation for his invaluable and enthusiastic help over the years in creating interest in all the historical activities of the village. After expressing his thanks, Mr. Browning spoke of the long and proud history of Hurley and hoped in conclusion that what Hurley does today will be worth remembering 300 years from now.

This performance, the third of the Hurley Folk Cantata, written and directed by Carolyn M. Waligurski was considered by many to be the finest. First performed in 1959 during the Year of History, the cantata has been recorded by Folkways Records and portions of the work have been heard over WGBS in New York. Albums are available at local record shops.

The Hurley Folk Cantata tells Hurley's story from 1661 to 1961 in song and narration with humor and dramatic incident. Mrs. Waligurski herself composed many of the songs which make this musical drama so delightful. Soloists were John McCullough, Roberta Gaddis, Herbert White on the fiddle, Patricia Ralston, George Attenasio on the drum, Gordon Burhans, Paul Hamilton, Charles Selzo and Joyce Wert. Elizabeth Askue was the narrator.

The Hurley Folk Chorus expressed its thanks to William Engelen for his assistance with the Dutch which was sung and spoken during the performance. Because of illness, he and Mrs. Engelen were unable to perform in the cantata as planned.

The Hurley Lions Club assisted with the organization and production of Sunday's performance. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Palen and Charles Koledjeski donated the use of the cantata site.

Modena

MODENA — Miss Genevieve Smith RN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Smith of Modena, and Robert Varela, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Varela of Modena, were married Saturday July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Varela will live in their new trailer home, east of Modena.

Miss Ariene Bernard enjoyed a week of her vacation from the W. T. Grant Department store in Newburgh, last week.

Electronic Exams

The Federal Aviation Agency is announcing an examination for electronic technician (general and radar) grades GS-8 and GS-9 for duty in installations in Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia and Washington, D. C. Salaries range from $5,885 per annum to $6,435 per annum.

Electronic technicians perform duties involving the installation and maintenance of electronic aids to navigation. These positions offer excellent opportunity for advancement in the electronic field.

Applicants will be rated on experience and training. Those who meet the experience and training qualifications will be required to pass a written test.

Application forms and further information may be obtained by writing to the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Federal Aviation Agency, Region One, New York International Airport, Jamaica 30, New York.

Files for Divorce

MESOCO, Switzerland (AP)—British actor Edmund Purdom opened divorce proceedings against his Polish-born wife, Alicia, over the weekend. He charged "incompatibility of character." The Purdoms were married in 1967.

4,700 Repair Jobs For Returning Force

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Rochester Telephone corporation's 1,100 maintenance and repair workers waded into a heavy backlog of work today after accepting a compromise contract ending their nine-week strike.

Regular telephone service was not affected by the walkout but the corporation said there were 4,700 repair and installation orders awaiting the workers when they returned to their jobs Sunday night.

The workers, members of local 1170 of the Communications Workers of America, voted Saturday to accept a new three-year pact calling for two more paid holidays, expanded fringe benefits, and a $2.00-$5.50 weekly wage raise.

The union lost its battle to delete a clause in the contract that sets up a waiting period before sick pay benefits start for a worker during his absence. The period ranges from one day to a week for workers with less than 10 years' service.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CHICAGO (AP)—Alan Marshal, 52, of New York, veteran stage, film and television actor, died Sunday after suffering a heart seizure during a Saturday night performance in the play "Sex-tette."

CHICAGO (AP)—Charles P. Feebusch, 80, a consulting engineer who was construction supervisor of several churches in New York City, died Saturday.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Archibald Hail Throckmorton, 85, member of a widely-known Virginia family and widow of a Western Reserve University professor, died Saturday.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—W. Bryan Karr, 39, president of the 500 Festival in Indianapolis, the scene of the annual 500-mile Memorial Day auto race, died Sunday after surgery.

Madrid's weather is described by an old Spanish proverb as "Nine Months of winter and three months of hell."

If you should ever meet up with a deadly snake, here's a heartening fact to remember. Snakes can't crawl faster than an adult can run. They look faster than they are. A black racer was once timed and viewers were asked to guess his speed. Most guesses were 10 to 15 miles an hour. Yet the snake at his speediest hit no more than 3.7 miles an hour.

More than 100 Register Many Complete Requirements In First Week at Tri-Mount

Requirements for Second Class, First Class, and Star Scout ranks, along with a variety of merit badge accomplishments marked the first week of the summer camping season at the Camp Tri-Mount Scout Reservation in East Jewett.

Man Who Fired Shot Is Held For Manslaughter

NORWICH, N.Y. (AP)—Charles Bishop, 48, of Mount Upton, father of seven, was under a manslaughter charge today in the death of a teen-age boy struck by a bullet fired at an automobile.

Bishop had been held in Chenango County Jail here on a second-degree assault charge since the shooting June 27.

The boy, Dennis Daigle, 14, also of Mount Upton, died Saturday in The Hospital Sidney.

Dist. Atty. Edward H. O'Connor said the degree of the manslaughter charge was not specified immediately.

State Police said Bishop claimed some boys in an automobile threw stones at his home and then sped away as he ran outside.

A bullet pierced the trunk of the car and rear seat before hitting Daigle.

Pleads Guilty

Accused of causing a disturbance near his home and using obscene language Saturday night, Leon Hunter, 28, laborer, of 18 Newkirk Avenue, today pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct before City Judge Aaron E. Klein who imposed a fine of $25 or 25 days in jail.

Three Seek Post On Highland Board

Three candidates will seek election Wednesday to a five-year term on the Highland Central School Board of Education to succeed Leslie Williams, whose term expires.

Candidates are Albert A. Mullen, New York Telephone Co. employee; Felice DeFelice, dress manufacturer, and Donald F. Brault, manager of the Poughkeepsie branch of the Dictaphone Corp.

Leonard Rizzo, appointed sometime ago to the board, seeks election unopposed to complete three years of a term vacated by Andrew Hufnagel.

Mullen cites a need for an academic program which strives for better educated children and adults. Brault contends the school system could be improved in athletics, curriculum, discipline and guidance and DeFelice favors a sound education system, high standards with no undue burden to the taxpayers.

MacArthur Back To Panay Island

ILOILO CITY, the Philippines (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, traveling this time in style, today returned to Panay Island in his tour of battle-grounds in the Philippines he made famous in World War II.

He was accorded a 19-gun salute as he stepped ashore from the presidential yacht, Lapu Lapu and cheered by thousands during his five-hour stay.

It was the last scheduled stop on his journey through the young Southeast Asian republic that reveres him as its liberator from the Japanese.
